WAR FEARS SWING TO FAR EAST

One Killed In Blast on Lake Freighter

SIX MEMBERS OF CREW HURT IN EXPLOSION

Engineer Trapped in Engine Room When Throttle Gives Way.

BELIEVE STEAM TOO HIGH

Accident Occurs at Erie Railroad Company Dock at Cleveland.

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND—The second assistant engineer on the Freighter B. H. Taylor was killed today and six other members of the crew were injured, one seriously, when an explosion rocked the ship while it lay anchored at the Erie Railroad company's dock in Cleveland harbor.

The engineer, Stewart Church, 33, was trapped on a stairway in the engine room when a steel throttle exploded and released great quantities of steam.

Church and the other members of the crew were all residents of Rogers, Mich.

Carl Wenzel, a coal passer, was the most seriously burned. He and other members of the crew were takn to Lutheran hospital. They were:

Wesley Bishop, third assistant engineer, severe burns; Eugene Jones, scalded, Stanley Grabryzrak, burns and a back injury suffered when a piece of cast oron torn loose by the blast struck him; Bernard Darga, slight burns; Robert McCormick, scalded.

Cause of the explosion was not immediately determined, but it was believed the steam pressure on the freighter had gotten too high, police said.

Church leaves a wife and one child.

JUST HALF DONE

Weather Holds Up Census Here; 100,000 Canvassed.

The federal census in Richland county was just about half completed today. Weather conditions were blamed by census officials for failure of the census takers to finish the task in the hoped for two weeks.

Don Harper, district director, said from Mt. Vernon headquarters today that 100,000 persons have been contacted in the 17th congressional district. Only one refusal to answer census questions has been met with in the district, Harper said.

Inclement weather has retarded the work considerably, Harper said. Urban schedules, however, are expected to be completed soon and the farm survey is not scheduled to be completed for at least another two weeks.

CLOUDY, COOLER, RAIN FORECAST

Month of Spring Over, But Just Where Has It Been?

With one month of the spring season behind, the weatherman continues to act as if he had never heard the word, and there is no indication right now that the skies will be bright again soon.

The temperature remains below the 15-year average. Yesterday it went up to 61 despite the chilly rain, but was down to 46 again last night and this morning.

"Cloudy and cooler preceded by showers" is predicted for tonight, and Friday "cloudy and cooler."

TROOPS CALLED

Swiss To Raise Army of 500,000 By Summer.

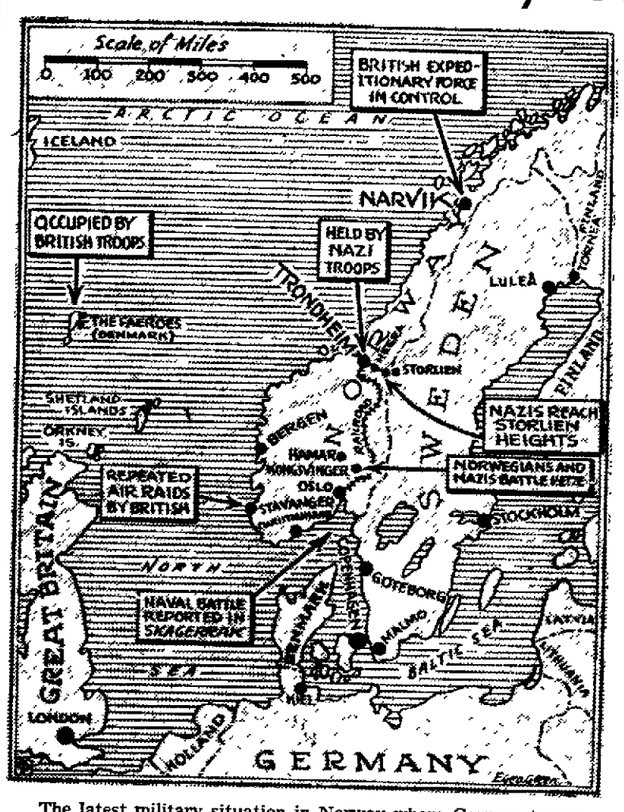
BERNE —(AP)— The Swiss federal council, after conferring with Gen. Henri Guisan, commander in chief of the nation's defense forces, today called out an additional 60,000 militia troops, who must join the armed forces between May 6 and July 29.

The order is designed to bring Switzerland's forces close to 500,000 men by midsummer.

BURN TO DEATH

DETROIT—(AP)—A young mother and her three-year-old son perished today in a fire which destroyed their home in Dearborn township. The victims were Mrs. Emily Leslie, 20, and Benjamin Leslie. Michael Leslie, the husband and father, was seriously burned

How Nazis Cut Norway--Get 'Green Light' In Denmark



The latest military situation in Norway where German troops are battling Norwegian and Allied forces is shown clearly in war map (left). Tricking railway officials into believing their troop train was carrying Norwegian soldiers, the Germans successfully drove through to the Storlien Heights at the Swedish border. This maneuver cut Norway in half at its narrowest point and enabled the Nazis to establish a line from Trondheim to the eastern border. At right, a Danish traffic officer clamly watches German troops march by as they occupy Aalborg, Denmark. It may be assumed the traffic signal shows a green light. This phonephoto is one of the first original pictures of the Nazi invasion of Denmark to reach the United States.

SEWAGE PLANT PLEA REJECTED

Council's Finance Committee Says $30,000 Program Out for This Year.

Mansfield's sewage treatment works may be inadequate for present needs and workmen at the plant may be entitled to pay raises, but city officials are going to do nothing about it—this year.

Council's finance committee members today said any improvements at the three-year-old plant during 1940 cannot be considered because there are no funds available.

James R. Turner, plant superintendent, yesterday reported to city officials that the sewage treatment plant was in immediate need of $30,000 in additional equipment to properly treat all sewage entering the plant. He also asked pay increases which would boost the plant's payroll $2,300 annually.

The consensus among city officials was that first improvements in the city's sewage system should be the rehabilitation of the sewers, including the removal of all roof drains from the system and the construction of interceptors to eliminate backing up of the sewage.

This, it was pointed out, would reduce overloads at the plant during storm periods and allow some relief to property owners who have been plagued for numerous years by sewage backing up in their basements during wet weather.

It is known that council's finance and sewer committees have been studying a plan of remedying the sewer condition with the construction of a few interceptors, but have been stymied because of lack of funds.

HIMMLER SAFE AND NO TARGET

Tells American Writers He Was Never In Denmark.

BERLIN—(INS)—Heinrich Himmler, chief of the German Gestapo (secret police), received American correspondents at his office today to disprove reports that he had been shot in Copenhagen.

"I have never been in Norway or Denmark in my life," said Himmler. "I have not been anybody's target.

"No detachment of SS troops is participating in the Scandinavian occupation."

He showed no signs of injury.

STAGE HOLDUP

Erie Railroad Express Office In New Jersey Robbed

LITTLE FALLS, N. J.—(AP)—Three men, two of them armed with revolvers and the third carrying a machine gun, held up the express office of the Erie railroad here today and escaped with "several mail bags and several thousand dollars."

Police said the robbers escaped in an automobile.

Boys, 13 And 15, Captured In Stolen Car; Armed With Guns

Police today were questioning five Mansfield youths between the ages of 13 and 15 who were arrested by state highway patrolmen at the western edge of the city last night in a stolen automobile.

Four of the youths, captured while riding in the car stolen from West Fourth street two hours earlier, were armed. The fifth boy was arrested at his home by police.

The quartet was arrested by State Highway Patrolmen D. H. Cole and J. A. Gosling about 11:15 p. m. on West Park drive near the senior high school soon after their cruiser had picked up a radio broadcast about the stolen machine.

Patrolmen said each of the youths was armed with a revolver and that approximately 500 rounds of ammunition was found in the car.

The machine, with the right front tire flat, apparently from an accident caused by the driver, was reported stolen from West Fourth street near Sycamore about 8:30 p. m. by Mrs. Edward Kissel, 38 State street.

Contending that they were only joyriding, the boys last night said they had driven north on route 39, cut across a country road to U. S. route 30-N and come back to the city.

Two of the guns were identified by police as those reported stolen from two downtown stores in recent weeks. One they said was taken from Goetz Hardware store on South Park street, some time ago and the other stolen last week from Ira Kochheiser sporting goods store, Park avenue west.

4 HURT IN CRASH

Mansfield Women Injured In Accident Near Mt. Vernon.

Five persons, four of them Mansfield women, were injured yesterday in a head-on automobile collision five miles south of Mt. Vernon on route 13.

The car in which they were riding was driven by Mrs. Anna Miller, clerk at Mansfield General hospital. It collided head-on with an auto driven by Morris Blum, Chicago dress salesman, as Blum attempted to pass a truck; it was reported here today.

Riding in the car with Mrs. Miller were Mrs. Herbert Jones, 81 Parkwood boulevard, who is confined to General hospital with a fractured right leg; Mrs. Harry Finefrock, 87 Lind avenue, and Mrs. W. J. Spreng, 414 Park avenue west. Both of the latter suffered minor bruises and cuts. Blum received chest injuries and cuts on his left knee and chin.

Mrs. Miller was driving the group to Granville where they were to attend a luncheon. All were treated at a Mt. Vernon hospital, and Mrs. Jones was later brought to Mansfield.

CONVICT FACES NEW SENTENCE

Refused To Testify In Trial Of Steel Strike Suit.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Herman Herzog, Canton prisoner slated for conditional release from Ohio penitentiary Nov. 1, today faced a contempt charge in federal court for failure to testify in a deposition hearing. He was ordered to appear before Judge Mell G. Underwood tomorrow.

Herzog was sentenced in Canton in 1937 to one to 20 years for conviction on a charge of possessing illegal explosives during the "Little Steel" strike. He refused to testify in a suit brought by three locals of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America against the Republic Steel Corp.

"Upside-Down Stomach" Girl Found Married To Bellhop

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO — Alyce Jane McHenry, who five years ago gained nation-wide fame as the "upside-down stomach" girl and who is now but 15 years old, today was found to be honeymooning in Chicago.

Alyce, it was learned, eloped to St. Charles, Mo., last March 22. Good Friday, with William Kern Byle, 23, a bellhop at a Chicago Loop hotel who had been planning to enter Northwestern university at Evanston. He formerly attended the University of Illionis.

Alyce was operated on for her "upside-down stomach" at Fall River, Mass., by Dr. Philemon Truesdale, in one of the strangest cases in medical annals. She fully recovered and, healthy and pretty, has been working as a professional model.

When found at a small hotel with the bridegroom, Alyce today refused to tell of her romantic episode, beyond the bare details of the elopement. Her mother, Mrs. Loulla McHenry, a sister, Mrs. Jean Vickers, and a "business agent," Martin Daley of New York, were with the couple.

Born with her stomach "upside-down" and going through an ordeal watched by the entire nation, Alyce weighed only 40 pounds when the operation to right her stomach was performed. She now weighs 118. She began her career as a model at 12, when Walter Thornton, head of a New York model's agency, hired her. In 1939, she was named "Swim for Health Week" girl.

SHUT OFF WATER IN DOWNTOWN

Part of Business District to Be Without Service For 7 Hours Tomorrow.

Part of Mansfield's business district will be without water for seven hours tomorrow morning during installation of new valves in the distribution system at West Fourth and Walnut streets, City Engineer W. C. Statler announced today.

The work is being done in connection with the laying of new water lines on the street preliminary to resurfacing the roadway this summer by the state highway department.

Statler said the area in which the water supply would be shut off at 5 a. m. until noon would include North Walnut street from Park avenue to West Fifth street; West Fourth street from North Main to Mulberry, and West Third from North Main to North Walnut street.

Workmen today started backfilling trenches on West Fourth street at North Main. Statler said the intersection would be opened tomorrow to through traffic.

He said WPA would probably

Rules Out Mayor And Councilman In Insurance Split

Their city offices will cost Mayor William J. Locke and Councilman George Kyle any new insurance business with the Mansfield schools, but they will be permitted to retain what they already have, the Mansfield board of education had ruled today.

The board's action resulted from an interpretation of the state insurance law by City Solicitor Marion D. Ward who said insurance men holding city offices are not entitled to sell insurance to public schools if the premium amounts to more than $50.

Mayor Locke had already received a ruling from the state insurance department, however, and did not seek any of the new insurance which the board of education purchased to cover the new John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed junior high school buildings.

Kyle had been slated to receive a $12,480 increase in business from the schools under the schedule set up by the Mansfield Underwriters' committee. The board authorized a total of $759,000 in new coverage for the junior high schools.

The board of education provided for the allocation of the insurance that would have gone to Mayor Locke and Kyle to the three mutual insurance companies in Mansfield, Lumbermans Mutual, the Mansfield Mutual Fire Insurance company, and the Richland Mutual Insurance company.

RICHLAND GETS $90,972 TO USE ON ROAD WORK

Auto License Tag Revenue to Get Road Maintenance Work Started in County.

MANSFIELD GETS $17,675

Cities and Villages Share In State Allocation, First Made From 1940 Fees.

Promised $90,972 from the state in auto license money within the next two days, city and county officials prepared today to speed up their work in repairing the damage to roads and streets as the result of the severe winter.

The allocation of funds will give the county $68,659 and Mansfield, Shelby and six villages a total of $22,413 for road and street maintenance. It will be the first distribution of 1940 automobile tag receipts.

The county and all of its subdivisions will find immediate use for the money since the past winter left roads and streets in the worst condition in recent years.

With its road funds depleted several weeks ago, the county was forced to borrow $10,000 which will be paid from the county's share of the license fees, County Engineer Howard C. Sword said.

Helps Sponsor Projects.

The rest of the money will be used for road department operating expenses and to sponsor WPA road contsruction and repair projects, he added.

Authorized about a week earlier than last year, the distribution of funds will give the county and its cities and villages approximately $8,000 more than they received in the first allocation of license money in 1939.

In addition to the county's share, the city of Mansfield will receive $17,675; Shelby, $2,775; Bellville, $525; Butler, $250; Lexington, $287; Lucas, $225; Plymouth, $350, and Shiloh, $225.

The county engineer explained that the county's sponsoring of a number of WPA projects and the heavy winter damage struck a double blow to the road funds. Because of the expense already incurred, he said it was doubtful if some of the work planned for this year can be carried out.

CYCLONE HITS

Ambulances Rushed to Small Louisiana Community.

GLENMORA, La.—(U.P.)—A cyclone struck the Bethel community eight miles west of here today. Shortly afterward, ambulances from the Huey P. Long state hospital at Pineville began to pass through here in the direction of Bethel.

Details of the cyclone were unobtainable. It was not reported whether any persons were killed or injured. No communications exist, even normally, between here and Bethel.

A hard rainstorm began here early today and continued after daylight. The local storm followed by a few hours gales in the Gulf of Mexico and rainstorms at inland points.

Bethel is a community of one store, a church, and a public school. It is center of an isolated farming community. Glenmore is 25 miles south of Alexandria.

TABULATE VOTES

Labor Board Has Big Job of Counting G. M. Ballots.

DETROIT —(U.P.)— National labor board officials today began tabulating an estimated 135,000 ballots cast by General Motors production and maintenance employes in the largest industrial poll in the board's histroy.

Upon the results rested the hopes of the UAW-CIO for continued supremacy in the automotive field, and of its rival UAW-AFL to regain prestige lost in earlier bargaining elections.

Allies Gird to Stall Jap Move Against Dutch

Foresee Attempt To Seize Netherlands East Indies Possessions; U. S. Warns Against Any Change In Far Eastern Status Quo

BULLETIN

PARIS—(INS)—Europe's great black day may come at any time now. The hour of a German grand offensive on the western front, if not actually at hand, is certainly not far off, in the opinion of keenest neutral observers tonight.

(By Associated Press).

SHANGHAI—British and French forces in the Far East were making ready today for any eventuality—including the chance of a Japanese attempt to seize the Dutch East Indies in event of a German invasion of the Netherlands.

Authorities of the American fleet in Asiatic waters joined the Allies in the comment that such action by Japan is a "serious possibility."

Tokyo spokesmen, however, insisted today that Japan has no territorial designs against the Dutch empire and that the Japanese view coincides with that expressed by United States Secretary of State Hull.

The secretary declared in part, that any alteration in the status of the Dutch East Indies "would be prejudicial to the cause of stability, peace and security . . . in the entire Pacific area."

A neutral naval observer in Shanghai declared that a thrust by Japan into the Dutch East Indies would result in Japan's entering the war on the side of Germany.

(From the Indian ocean eastward into the Pacific, the islands stretch along the equator for some 3,200 miles. They have an area of 733,642 square miles and support a population of 60,731,025, mostly native. The possession has for many years enjoyed virtually a dominion status.)

(Rich in natural resources, many of which Japan lacks, the islands produce a considerable proportion of the world's supply of rubber, tin, quinine, copra and petroleum.)

(The United States depends on them for some of its most essential raw materials. American imports were valued at $93,156,000 in 1939, and exports to the islands totaled $35,398,000.)

"If the Japanese decide that the probabilities favor their success they may occupy the islands, using the same excuse as Adolf Hitler used in Denmark and Norway," this observer said, referring to the German explanation that the Scandinavian countries were invaded for their own "protection."

"If Japan could be certain that Russia would not jump on her back, it is highly possible that the Japanese would act," he said.

Naval officials said several factors favor the possibility of a lightning Japanese stroke to parallel any German drive into the Netherlands.

First, they contended, it is Japan's "unconcealed ambition" to gain control of the East Indies' oil, rubber and tin supplies to achieve independence of other sources of supply.

The Japanese navy, in contrast to the Japanese army, one observer went on, has not been weakened directly by the war in China. The navy was pictured as "cocky and full of fight" and as believing that its "easy landings in China could be duplicated in the East Indies."

"The navy likewise apparently is convinced that the East Indies could be subjugated before the British-French forces could swing into action, therefore the present is the most auspicious for a Japanese gamble.

"Proponents of action by Japan also probably believe that if a quick coup is accomplished, and the American public is presented with a fait accompli, the United States will not retaliate."

There were reports that Japa-

SEA: Sailor Says Bremen Sunk With 15,000 Troops Aboard

(By United Press)

LONDON—Engvard O. Rydningen, Norwegian survivor of a torpedoed British ship, asserted to interviewing newspaper men today that the giant German liner Bremen had been sunk with 15,000 German troops aboard in Norwegian waters.

Rydningen's statement was not confirmed. The loss of the Bremen, in circumstances similar to those related by Rydningen, had been reported persistently last week and firmly denied in Berlin.

Rydningen said that a previously prepared letter, found in a pocket of the Bremen captain's uniform, and saying that he had "arrived safely," had been forwarded to Germany by Norwegian authorities.

(It was assumed that Rydningen meant that the captain's body had been found.)

Rydningen was a survivor of the London steamship Stancliffe, which the Germans torpedoed off northern Scotland last Friday.

The British Press association asserted that the commander of the submarine which sank the NORTH: Germans Fight Off Fierce Allied Drive, Retreat

By PETER C. RHODES
(UP Staff Correspondent)

LULEAA, Sweden—German troops are fighting a desperate retreating action in the Narvik area in Arctic Norway, it was reported today, against a merciless British-Norwegian drive.

The battle by a combined British-Norwegian force to wipe out all Germans in the entire Narvik area from the Rombakfjord on the North sea coast to the Swedish frontier began late yesterday, it was understood.

British landing forces were reported in action both north and south of Narvik as well as in the town.

Fighting was reported in progress along the Narvik-Swedish frontier railroad, as well as in the immediate vicinity of Narvik.

(Amsterdam picked up a radio Stockholm report that the fighting had extended all along the railroad and that the British were advancing.)

Norwegian troops joined the British north of Narvik, in the Herjangerfjord sector, for a combined drive.

Some Germans were reported trapped in the rugged snow-covered mountains between Narvik and the frontier.

All reports indicated that the Germans were fighting with the

2 BIOGRAPHIES, NOVELS IN NEW LIBRARY LIST

Madam Recamier, Oscar Wilde and Yellow 'Nineties' On Shelves This Week.

Two novels by distinguished writers and two biographies, one of Oscar Wilde and his time, and another of Madame Recamier, the great beauty and flirt of the French Revolution period, are found on the list of new books at the public library this week.

BETHEL MERRIDAY by Sinclair Lewis is the story of a girl who traveled the long hard road of theatrical touring to attain her heart's desire. Leaving home and a desirable suitor behind her, Bethel set out to become a great actress. Her experiences in a theatrical school and on the road with a troupe of players provide a fascinating cross section of life behind the footlights.

THE MORNING IS NEAR US by Susan Glaspell is the story of a woman's conflict with the past. Never intimately loved by her parents, Lydia Chippman found poise and assurance as well as happiness in establishing a home for two children whom she had adopted.

STONES FOR BREAD by Edwin Carlile Litsey is the strange story of a poverty-stricken recluse in a Kentucky town. Martin moved in a joy-filled dream after a beautiful young lady had visited his cabin and treated him as her equal.

Four other fiction volumes are:

DUE FOR A HANGIN' by Cameron;

FLYIN'M BUCKAROO. Colin;

DEATH CUTS A SILHOUETTE, Olsen;

A MATTER OF IODINE, Keith.

THE AMERICAN STAKES by John Chamberlain is a survey of our present political economy in the United States. Mr. Chamberlain candidly discusses the prospect of democracy and concludes that no one class will get the upper hand in our country. He warns that unless we meet the need for employment of young people this problem will take a serious turn.

FINLAND by J. Hampden Jackson is a complete history of the Finns. Mr. Jackson regards Finland as the eastern outpost of western civilization. He shows how this small nation became one of the most self-sufficient of those created after the World war.

OSCAR WILDE AND THE YELLOW 'NINETIES by Frances Winwar is an analysis of the life of this strange figure of an extraordinary period. Miss Winwar unveils the personality and sketches many other lives which influenced it.

MADAME RECAMIER by Henry Dwight Sedgwick is the biography of a flirt who was a girl during the Reign of Terror in the French Revolution. The book describes her popularity among women as well as her many conquests among the important men of her day.

FLIERS HEROES

Britain's Young Air Force Getting Publicity.

LONDON—(INS)—Aviators are the heroes of the present war.

Britain's young air force likes publicity and is getting plenty of it.

Newspapers devote columns of space to their exploits, and their pictures are prominently displayed in all popular magazines.

On the other hand the tradition-bound British navy dislikes publicity. Except in a few cases, such as the victory over the Graf Spee, little is ever revealed concerning its activities. English reporters, assigned to do an article on the navy, usually are forced to dwell lengthily on the defeat of the Spanish Armada and Nelson's victory at Trafalgar. The modern touch is supplied by a few pictures of present-day cruisers.

HELP KIDNEYS PASS 3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys work in 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SGT. YORK CONSIDERS RUNNING FOR CONGRESS TO OPPOSE WAR

PALL MALL, Tenn. —(U.P.)— Sergt. Alvin York, who was one of America's greatest heroes in the World War, may run for Congress on a platform designed to keep the nation from entering the European conflict.

It was some 25 years ago that the big, broad-shouldered mountaineer threw a rifle over his shoulder and marched to a recruiting office to join the army and fight for Democracy. He went overseas with the 82nd division and became famous one winter night in the Argonne Forest when he captured more than 100 German soldiers single handed.

A few months later the Armistice was signed and York came back to the United States to be acclaimed a hero. Congress awarded him the Congressional Medal of Honor. He was cheered and feted. But soon he came back to his home here in the Tennessee hills married a native mountain girl and dropped from public sight.

Now York wants to run for Congress and use his influence to prevent the United States from entering another "war to end wars."

"I am seriously considering making the race," he said, "but have not decided definitely yet."

York declared that the United States should stay out of the present war but should be strong in national defense.

If York does make the race, he will oppose Rep. Albert Gore, D., Tenn., who is representing the 4th Tennessee congressional district.

York claims credit for helping the people of his community in many ways during the past 20 years. He has led the fight for new roads and new public schools. He has organized and built his own Bible school here where the teaching of evolution is barred.

The principal thing which stands in the way of his making the race, York said, is the Hollywood project to make a motion picture of his life. Producer Jesse L. Lasky has had several conferences with him recently about the proposed picture, "The Life of Sergeant York." If the picture is produced this year, Lasky wants York to go to Hollywood for a few months as adviser to the director.

York and his wife are the parents of seven children. The oldest, Alvin York, Jr., 19, is married and a farmer of this community.

York at present is serving as superintendent of the Cumberland state park near Crossville, Tenn.

Officials Demonstrate Shower of the Press For Reporter.

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Latest in social affairs: the burglary shower. Burch Lee and his wife, Pat McNealy Lee, newspaper reporters, were victims of a prowler who stole $46 from their apartment.

County officials, police officers and friends tossed a party at which the couple were showered with food and household supplies to make up the loss.

I LIKE THE ELEPHANTS MOST AT THE CIRCUS, MICKEY!
NOT ME- I LIKE THE MONKEYS!
MONKEYS ARE SMART THEY KIN DO TRICKS 'N' EVERYTHIN' BUT AN ELEPHANT IS DUMB!
WHY IS HE DUMB?
'CAUSE HIS HEAD IS FULL OF IVORY- IT EVEN STICKS OUT!
MY UNCLE OSCAR SEZ:

It's smart to eat plenty of Silver Crest Bread. It's full of wide awake energy.

There's An Old-Fashioned Country Flavor On Your Grocer's Shelf!

YOU'LL know it the minute you taste it . . . if you've ever lived on a farm. For the flavor of SMUCKER'S Old-Fashioned Cider Apple Butter is right at home in a Country Kitchen.

The recipe came from a Country Kitchen. It goes like this . . . prime grade apples—boiled cider—granulated sugar. Nothing is added! No spices!

Look for the quaint brown jar on your grocer's shelf. Take it home with a loaf of fresh bread—the bigger the crust the better. You'll know what to do then.

A word of caution. Be sure you emphasize the name SMUCKER'S. . . . Then you'll get the truly old-fashioned Country Flavor. A big 2-lb. jar for 25¢.

If your grocer can't supply you, write to the J. M. Smucker Co. Orrville, O.

ORGANIZE CO-OP CLUB IN CITY

Service Club Formed to Meet Weekly; Elect Officers at Meeting Next Week.

A group of 22 Mansfield business men was organized today into a Mansfield unit of the Co-Operative club International.

The club received its charter at a dinner meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Tuesday night. The club will meet weekly on Tuesdays and next week will hold a dinner meeting at the Southern hotel. Officers will be elected then.

Dr. I. W. Bassinger is the club's temporary chairman, G. F. VanTilburg is acting treasurer, and E. J. Speck is acting secretary.

The organization, a service club, received its charter from Andrew Thomas of New Orleans, La., national president. Thomas gave an address at the charter meeting. Other guests were George Mason of Kansas City, Mo., national secretary, and Norman Sauam of Dayton, district governor.

Representatives from clubs in Oak Park, Ill., Jamestown, O., Middletown, Columbus, Springfield, Dayton and Lima attended the meeting.

STOCK LEADERS BACK AWAY IN TODAY'S MART

U. S. Steel, Chrysler Among Group Lacking Support; Commodities Higher.

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market encountered rallying opposition today and leading issues backed away fractions to around a point.

Lacking much support were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, Glenn Martin, United Aircraft, American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines and du Pont.

Bonds were steady and commodities higher. Foreign markets tilted downward.

Helpful marketwise was the survey of the bureau of agricultural economics which indicated industrial improvement on four major fronts "strengthened the conclusion" that the lengthy decline would not continue into the summer.

Constructive also was the Dun & Bradstreet summary disclosing the country's bank clearings in the week ended yesterday topped the comparable 1939 period by 4.8 per cent.

THEATERS

South African Setting.

High intrigue, in the form of an attempt to loot the fabulous Kimberly diamond mines, and high comedy, in the form of a young airman's infatuation for a lovely lady crook, are the factors around which "Adventure in Diamonds" revolves. The show on Friday at the Ohio stars George Brent and Isa Miranda, and the setting is in South Africa in the diamond mining region and its metropolis, Cape Town. It maps the romance between a handsome young officer in Britain's famed Royal Air Force, Brent, and an international girl crook, Miss Miranda.

* * *

Karloff, the Scientist.

The newest and most terrifying of all the Karloff films, "The Man With Nine Lives" is being shown at the Madison theater Friday. The king of horror contributes one of his great characterizations as a scientist who is brought back to life after spending 10 years in a state of "frozen sleep." Roger Pryor and Jo Ann Sayers are featured as the young doctor and nurse who revive the seemingly dead scientist and narrowly escape his terrible experiments which ruthlessly snuff out four lives.

* * *

Singing Cowboy.

Unlike the majority of screen "cowboys," Tex Ritter, now appearing Friday and Saturday at the Ritz theater in "Man From Texas," actually was a cowboy and hails from the broad plains of Texas. Containing all the ingredients of a thrilling musical western, "Man From Texas" is the exciting story of a railroad trouble shooter who, single-handed outwits a band of outlaws. The co-feature is "Nick Carter, Master Detective," with Rita Johnson, Walter Pidgeon and Donald Meek.

* * *

Rangers on Revue.

Gene Durnal and his original Rio Grande Rangers will present a program at the Park theater Friday and Saturday with three shows daily. The entertainment is composed of radio artists, novelty numbers, string band and singing. Two movies will also be shown which are "Children of the Wild" and "The Gentleman from California." In the former picture, a spectacular scene is one between Goldie, the American eagle and Silver Wolfe, a Belgium shephard dog, who rescues a small child from the attack of the eagle.

* * *

Picture Starts Romance.

Charles Starrett as the secret operative of the Cattlemen's Association, goes to Cottonwood Valley to stop the rustling of cattle—and another Western gets under way, entitled "Bullets for Rustlers." The picture that brought Artie Shaw to Hollywood and the luscious Lana Turner into his arms in a permanent way was "Dancing Co-ed." The romance ended in their surprise marriage. The two pictures come to the Majestic tomorrow.

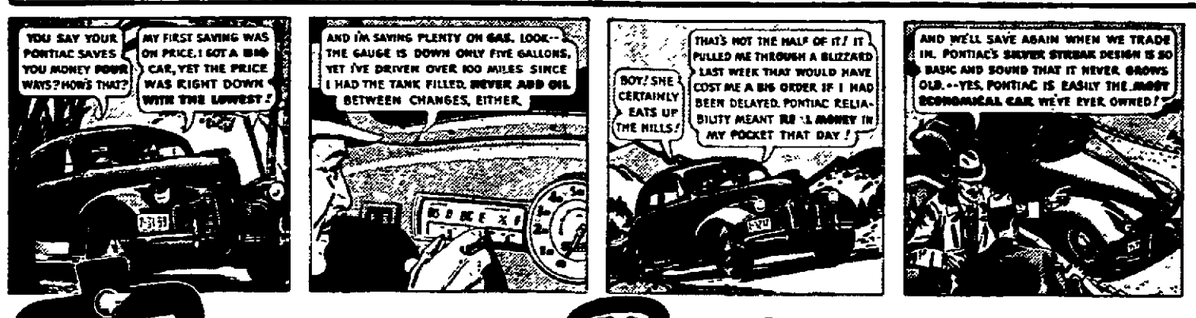
"MOST ECONOMICAL CAR WE EVER OWNED"



YOU SAY YOUR PONTIAC SAVES YOU MONEY FOUR WAYS? HOW'S THAT?
MY FIRST SAVING WAS ON PRICE. I GOT A BIG CAR, YET THE PRICE WAS RIGHT DOWN WITH THE LOWEST!
AND I'M SAVING PLENTY ON GAS, LOOK—THE GAUGE IS DOWN ONLY FIVE GALLONS, YET I'VE DRIVEN OVER 100 MILES SINCE I HAD THE TANK FILLED. NEVER ADD OIL BETWEEN CHANGES, EITHER.
BOY! SHE CERTAINLY EATS UP THE HILLS!
THAT'S NOT THE HALF OF IT! IT PULLED ME THROUGH A BLIZZARD LAST WEEK THAT WOULD HAVE COST ME A BIG ORDER IF I HAD BEEN DELAYED. PONTIAC RELIABILITY MEANT REAL MONEY IN MY POCKET THAT DAY!
AND WE'LL SAVE AGAIN WHEN WE TRADE IN. PONTIAC'S SILVER STREAK DESIGN IS SO BASIC AND SOUND THAT IT NEVER GROWS OLD.—YES, PONTIAC IS EASILY THE MOST ECONOMICAL CAR WE'VE EVER OWNED!

YES, PONTIAC is a big car—even bigger, more luxurious, more comfortable than ever—but don't let its size mislead you about economy!

Pontiac owners in all parts of the country tell us in glowing terms that Pontiac is the most economical car in every way—gas, oil, upkeep and freedom from trouble—they have ever owned! And many of these owners used to drive small cars!

Where else can you get a big car, with all the advantages only a big car can offer, that is just as easy to buy and just as economical to own as a small car? See your Pontiac dealer today!

Delivered at Pontiac, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice. A General Motors Value.*

Mansfield Fighter Impressive In Feature Match

Cops Decision Over Columbus Boy at Armory

Zacharias Has Rival Groggy; Six Friendly House Boxers Emerge With Victories at Armory.

By CHARLES MARTIN

JAKE ZACHARIAS today is casting a critical eye around Ohio amateur fight circles for a tough middleweight opponent.

The youthful Mansfield mittster has been begging for a worthy rival for several weeks and matchmakers thought Manuel Armstrong, top Columbus 160-pounder, would fill the bill and they shoved the two lads into the feature bout of the "battle of champions" benefit fight show Battery D staged before 800 wildly cheering fans at the Armory last night.

For a couple of rounds it appeared as though Zacharias would have his hands full against this boy who was ranked as the "hardest hitting middleweight in the Capital city," but he handled the situation without a bit of trouble in winning a decision.

While this bout brought more cheers from the fans than any other on the card, the program, one of the best staged in Mansfield for several years, was packed with thrills.

Six Friendly House youngsters, including Zacharias, climbed through the ropes to register victories. Three of them chalked up knockout triumphs Eddie Talley, 120, Sam Walker, 130, and Paul Carbetta, 118, were the settlement boys to stop their opposition.

Carbetta, fighting his second match in the bantamweight class, and Al Sauer, promising lightheavyweight, served notice to future north central Ohio boxers that they will be hard to handle. Both scored impressive wins.

But to get back to Zacharias. Performing in his second fight since he was defeated by Joey Maxim in the Cleveland Golden Gloves tournament, Jake seemed more sure of himself.

Armstrong came out fast in the first heat of the five-round melee, and midway in the session had Zacharias covering up with a flurry of slinging rights and lefts.

Jake weathered the storm and then gave the Columbus boy a thorough whipping. The Mansfield fighter received the unanimous decision of the judges, Fred Strine of Ashland and "Gip" Miller and Joe Scanlon of Mansfield.

* * *

Several times in the fourth and fifth rounds Jake had Armstrong groggy and holding on desperately to keep from taking the count. Zacharias relied on a dynamite right cross to do most of his damage.

* * *

Carbetta was supposed to face a battle against Eddie Potter, who claims the Columbus city bantamweight crown, but it wasn't even a warm-up for the Mansfielder.

Potter started fast, but when Carbetta began sending over a left jab and right cross and Potter took a count of nine and eight before a right put him to sleep in one minute and 49 seconds of the first round.

Ray Howman, Ashland lightweight, replaced Beauford Glover of Mansfield, in the five-round meet against Frank Franklin of Columbus and came off second best.

Howman, a rugged battler, lasted until the finish, but he absorbed a lot of punishment. Franklin, a polished ringster, led the fight from the opening bell and had the blond Ashlander bleeding in the second heat.

Talley and Walker didn't even get a sweat up. Both their rivals, Bill Zenle and Norman Weiser of Fremont weren't in the same class.

A Marion lad, who was at the fight to work as a second, stole some of the spotlight. He was Howard Hodges, a lightweight and his left—a wild haymaker—gave him a decision over Don Matthews of Columbus. It was a thriller. Both were willing to mix it up Matthews dropped to the canvass a couple of times.

Al Sauer and his brother Joe, both representing the Friendly House, gave the crowd some interesting minutes. Al won a decision over Charles Hodges, 162, of Columbus, while Joe had a task in taking a decision from John Cotter, 145, of Fremont.

The Friendly House furnished all the Mansfield fighters for the program Russ Gimble, settlement director, donated the boys' services for the affair in which Battery D held to raise funds for equipping a club room Capt. Bob Nichols was in charge of the show.

McKechnie To Start Thompson

Deacon to Save Bucky Walters for Pittsburgh, Tries Strategy.

CINCINNATI —(AP)— The fans around here are just waiting to see if that inaugural victory the Reds hung up is the McCoy or if the team should have kept up its eight-year practice of dropping the openers.

* * *

So Gene Thompson, the tall young fellow who delivered so ably late last season when Manager Bill McKechnie was scratching for pitchers, is the man to show them today in a bit of early strategy. Gabby Hartnett is placing his hopes for the Chicago Cubs' first 1940 victory on Claude Passeau.

* * *

Yesterday's postponement caused McKechnie to start his strategy working in a hurry. He planned to pitch Bucky Walters in the second game but now he's going to save him for Pittsburgh. Bucky beat the Pirates four out of five tries last year, while the Cubs took him down five out of seven.

The good deacon no doubt feels that the games at this end of the string count just as much in the final writing as the September stretch battles and he's determined to do no fooling around at any stage.

Besides, why give Bucky his 1940 second-off against a jinx team? Two of his losses to the Cubs last year were last-inning relief affairs and one was a 1-0 heart-breaker.

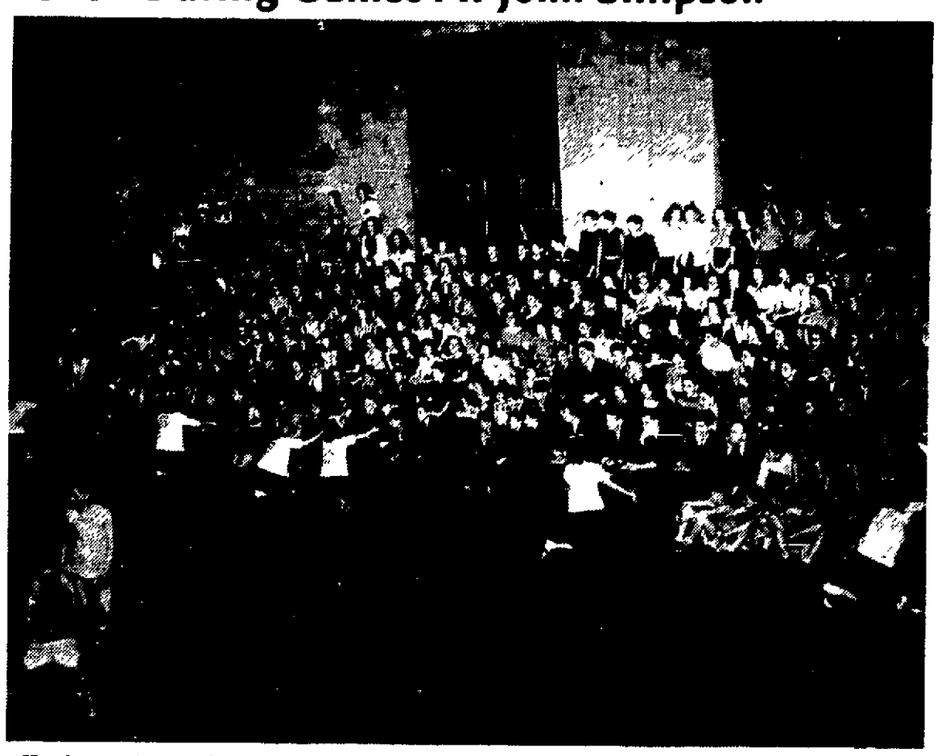
* * *

To all of which Bucky, the most valuable player in the National league in 1939 and the junior partner in Derringer & Walters, one of the great pitching firms in baseball history, probably says, "nuts."

* * *

All this is highly dependent on Cincinnati's famous spring weather that brings floods, wet feet, and sinus trouble singly or en masse The flowers may bloom early here but ball games don't and the Reds will be lucky if they play a thoroughly dry game before May 1.

Action During Games At John Simpson



Here's a portion of the crowd which witnessed the basketball series between John Simpson and Johnny Appleseed Juniors on the former's floor last night. It was taken during the third contest. Simpson won two of three games.

Regulars Report to Braves' Camp Today

FOUR of the 1939 regulars on the Mansfield Braves Ohio State league team reported to Manager Dewey Stover at the training camp at the Fairground today.

They are Frank Ankenbrand, Howard Beals and Connie Zerman, infielders, and Harry Siegbert, first-baseman. Several promising prospects are also on hand to battle for berths on the Braves' team. Among the group are Daniel Potusik, a six-foot, three-inch, left-handed first baseman from Detroit; Don LaBo, third baseman, Detroit, Dale Wilson, second baseman, of Toledo; Christ Davis, of Trenton, Mich., third baseman and catcher, and Elmer Mucci, second baseman from Chicago.

Joe C. Hartline, president of the Mansfield Braves, was the guest speaker at a meeting held at the American Legion last night. The Legion is sponsoring a "Legion night" in May, and will have the Legion Drum Corps in the opening night parade Wednesday, May 1, when the Braves open the season at the Fairground against Lima. Ralph Hughes has been appointed grand marshal for the opening night affair.

Nine Mansfield Teams To Bowl In ABC Meet Tonight

The vanguard of nine Mansfield bowling teams left Mansfield early today to strut its stuff in the ABC tournament at Detroite tonight. The clubs will go into action at 10:30. Teams performing are Optimist club, Satterlee's Restaurant, Ingram and Martin Oldsmobiles, Ringside Cafe, Weidner Pontiacs, Leiderkranz club, Lutz Lumbers of Lexington, Mansfielders, and Mansfield Tires No. 11. Singles and doubles will be bowled Friday afternoon.

BOWLING SCORES

C. Meder of the Mansfielders and George Percy of the Mansfield Rug and Linoleum bowling team captured high scoring honors in the City A league matches last night at the Meder alleys.

Meder flattened the maples for a 632, while Percy followed close behind with a 624 total.

Friday of the Yuncker Sports team rolled a 603, to take the top honors in the Commercial B league match with Heilman's Grocery.

Derby Hope Lames Leg In Practice

(By United Press)

Prompt Pay (Herbert M. Woolf) pulled up with a lame right foreleg after breezing six furlongs at Churchill Downs but extent of injury will not be known for several days, Woolf and Trainer Ross Higdon said.

If leg fails to respond to treatment the horse will be returned to farm to join Quenemo, another Woolford derby hopeful out with an injury. Stable hopes ride with Inscolad and Inscolassie, long shots in future book betting. Prompt Pay was 20-1.

Meets "Hun" Here Monday

Marino Will Attempt to Rip His Mask Off.

"Bull" Marino, the swashbuckling Italian juniorheavyweight from New York City's teeming lower east side will attempt to accomplish by sheer mat dynamite what nobody else has been able to do here—defeat "the Hun," the weird masked wrestler who has the German Nazi emblem emblazoned upon his robe.

* * *

Officials of the Quality club announced today that Marino and "The Hun" have been signed to wrestle in the Armory on next Monday night in a two out of three falls match with an hour and a half time limit.

* * *

The making of this match came about after both Marino and the former Masked Marvel, Jack Smithers had asked for the match. These two men were matched to wrestle for that prize on last Monday night and Marino emerged the winner and consequently signed to attempt to rip the mask off the Marvel.

Left-Handers May Plague N. Y. Yankees

With DiMaggio and Powell Out of Line-up, Yanks to See Plenty of Southpaws.

(By Associated Press)

UNTIL Joe DiMaggio gets back into the lineup for the New York Yankees the world champions are sure to see a more or less constant stream of southpaw pitching.

Connie Mack, who has to take chances with what material he has masquerading as pitchers, tried a righthander yesterday in the only game of the day in the major leagues, and the McCarthymen went right to work for a 4-1 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

But Mr. Mack knows the formula as well as he knows every other rule of the thumb in baseball. He gambled with Lefty Lovill (Chubby) Dean and won the opener the day before and he said that young Herman Besse, a rookie southpaw from Memphis, would be thrown into the lions' den today.

* * *

With DiMaggio in sick bay, the Yankees have five lefthanded batters in the lineup, four of them coming to the plate in succession.

* * *

Besides DiMaggio, the only righthanded hitting outfielder on the Yankee squad is Jake Powell and he is in a hospital and may be lost for many weeks because of a brain concussion. DiMaggio hoped to get back into harness tomorrow when the Yanks make their first home stand against the Senators.

There is no question that his power against both right and lefthanded pitching is sorely missed. In the opener which New York lost in ten innings the Yanks collected only six hits, none of them more than a single, and yesterday they won with a somewhat skimpy seven.

In fact the Yanks might have been edged out again in spite of Monte Pearson's four-hit pitching if Keller hadn't expressed his authority. He walked to lead off the fourth inning and scored New York's first run, homered for the second and drove in the fourth with a single.

Unfavorable weather forced postponement of all the other games.

Beulah To Hold Twilight Races

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Central Standard time will prevail in suburban Grove City for four days to permit twilight running horse races at Beulah Park track this season.

* * *

The track scheduled twilight programs ending at 7:30 p. m. for April 28, April 30, May 7 and May 14 but state law forbids running races after 7 p. m. Mayor Orin Breckenridge made it all legal with his time-change proclamation and state racing commission sat back and relaxed.

The Beulah season opens Saturday with prospects of a heavy track because of recent rains.

Cleveland Indians In High Spirits

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Cleveland Indians were in high spirits for their tussle with the Chicago White Sox today, the last encounter before the home inaugural against the Detroit Tigers.

* * *

Bob Feller's no-hit game and the fine showing of the keystone rookies, Lou Boudreau and Ray Mack, in Tuesday's opener, coupled with Rollie Hemsley's announcement that he was "on the wagon to stay," boosted morale to an early-season high.

* * *

Manager Oscar Vitt said Willis Hudlin, due to face the Sox in yesterday's postponed game, would take the hill. Johnny Rigney was scheduled to hurl for Chicago.

Johnny Allen will pitch the Tiger game tomorrow, regardless of a possible postponement of the final contest here. The Indians, and especially Feller, will be welcomed on their arrival in Cleveland tomorrow morning by city and civic officials.

Hemsley, who left an amazing trail of fines, suspensions and headaches through a decade of baseball, said his rollicking days are ended for good.

"I've quit drinking," he declared. "I'll admit I must have been quite a problem for a while. But that's all over now. I simply decided I'd have to quit to stay in the majors. No more of those old days for me."

Hemsley attributed the reformation to his membership in Alcoholics-Anonymous, which he described as an association of "ex-drinkers who have found out what was wrong with them and are now trying to help others who have the same disease."

* * *

The Tribe catcher said he was induced into the group by two strangers who met him a year ago as he stepped off a train in Cleveland, the day after he created a virtual riot on a club car carrying the Indians to New York for an exhibition game.

* * *

"I went with these men to Akron," Hemsley said, "where I spent four days in a hospital, just resting and listening to the stories of some of the members. I haven't had a drink since that night on the train."

Simpson Wins Final Match

Captures Two Out of Three Tilts Last Night.

John Simpson cagers put a climax to their series with Johnny Appleseed last night by again capturing two out of the three games scheduled at the John Simpson gymnasium last night.

* * *

Simpson and Appleseed were to have played a third series but wins by Simpson's ninth and eight graders gave the Simpson quints enough points to clinch the match.

* * *

Simpson's ninth grade team defeated the ninth grade Johnny Appleseed team 31 to 16, while their eighth graders piled up 26 points to Appleseed's 19. Johnny Appleseed's seventh grade team nosed out the Simpson seventh grade by a 13 to 10 score for Appleseed's only win.

Harness Races To Close Late

Owners to Keep Trotters, Pacers Racing 'Till Oct.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The harvest moon will be high this year before Ohio 's harness horse racing season closes.

Formation of the Indian Summer circuit with Marysville, Lancaster and Columbus as members will keep the trotters and pacers racing past mid-October.

* * *

The Columbus Trotting Horse club, which announced organization of the new circuit, will sponsor a harness meet at the state fairgrounds Oct. 16-18. The Marysville dates are Oct. 2-4 and Lancaster Oct. 9-11.

* * *

Stake purses totaling $24,000 will be posted for the three meets in addition to several open classes closing a week before the races. May 1 is the closing date for stakes.

BUDDY KNOX FACES FOE IN NEW YORK THURSDAY

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Buddy Knox, Dayton's blond bomber, faces his toughest foe of the year here next Thursday night in tangling with Steve Dudas of New York in a 10-round bout.

Dudas, now ninth in the heavyweight ratings, holds verdicts over Irish Pat Comiskey, Nathan Mann, Bob Pastor and Red Burman. The New Yorker lost to Max Schmeling on a knockout in Germany.

STANFORD ACE CLAIMS NEW WORLD'S RECORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif.—(AP)—Paul Moore of Stanford claimed a new world record for the three-quarter mile run today. He was timed at 2:58.7 for the distance during a dual meet between Stanford and San Jose State yesterday, clipping nearly two seconds off the official world mark of 3:00.6, set by Jules Ladoumegue of France in 1931.

Showers May Stop Openers

Rain Threatens to Postpone Association Contests.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Showers threatened to fill the American association's opening day attendance record cup with water instead of ducats from baseball fans in eastern division cities today.

* * *

The eight double-A clubs went right ahead with plans for opening the loop's 39th season, however, and indications were that all games would come off on schedule if at all possible despite forecasts of rain and colder.

* * *

Hopes ran highest at Louisville where the Colonels, junior world champions, expect to play Minneapolis before 15,000 persons.

Crowds of 10,000 were predicted for Columbus, where the Red Birds tangle with Milwaukee, and Indianapolis, scene of St. Paul's invasion. About 7,500 were expected to see the champion Kansas City Blues square off against the last place Mud Hens in Toledo.

League President George M. Trautman has predicted a photo finish for the eight clubs this year because the Blues have lost several outstanding performers and second division finishers have been strengthened but the circuit's baseball writers picked Kansas City as a top-heavy favorite to retain the title and saw Louisville in second place at the windup of the season.

At Columbus, Gov. John W. Bricker will don a catcher's mitt to receive the first pitch from Mayor Floyd Green. Francis Schmidt, Ohio State university's grid coach, will share in the festivities.

Iowa Tries For Baseball Crown

CHICAGO—(AP)—Iowa's chances of retaining the Big Ten baseball crown it won last year might take on more concrete form this week after a two-game series with the strong University of Illinois nine.

All conference teams will be in action Friday and Saturday, but Big Ten observers will be particularly interested in the outcome at Iowa City. Bolstered by three basketball stars—Bill Hapac, Johnny Drish and Walt Evers—Illinois enters the game unbeaten in two league starts, both against Northwestern. Iowa, in its only conference engagement, whipped Purdue, 2 to 0.

OHIOANS AT TOP OF TWO CLASS B DIVIVSIONS

TOLEDO — (AP) — A conflict of dates with the American Bowling Congress in Detroit necessitated mid-week action by some Toledoans in the Ohio state bowling tournament here and, as result, they stood at the top of two Class B divisions today.

The Auto-Lite Engineering No. 1 squad rolled 2,994 to take the lead away from Naby's Cafe team of Dayton which had 2,992. G. Lehman and E. Van Cleef went to the head of the doubles class with 1,257.

SAILOR CLAIMS BREMEN SUNK, 15,000 ABOARD

Survivor of Torpedoed British Ship Tells Story; Lacks Confirmation.

Stancliffe warned the Germans will "sink all shipping at sight and spare nobody after the month of May."

At the same time the commander offered the Stancliffe survivors a bottle of rum and 500 cigarets.

BREMEN SAFE, SAY NAZIS

BERLIN — (INS) — The German luxury liner Bremen "is lying safely in a German harbor," authoritative German quarters stated today in reply to news reports that she had been sunk.

The vessel was not used as a troop transport in Scandinavian waters, it was said.

DEUTSCHLAND AGROUND?

STOCKHOLM—(INS)—A report that the German pocket battleship Luetzow, formerly the Deutschland, has run aground on the Norwegian coast reached Stockholm as German and British forces prepared for a major showdown in the Trondheim area.

(Editor's note: It was this vessel, then named the Deutschland, which captured the American freighter City of Flint early in the war.)

The report regarding the German warship was published by the newspaper Svenska Dagbladet in a dispatch from a special correspondent, Gunnar Knutsson, stationed at the Swedish-Norwegian border.

His dispatch stated that a Norwegian who reached the border from Trondheim said the Luetzow had run aground at Risa, northeast of Trondheim.

Editor's note: There was no immediate confirmation of the report regarding the Luetzow. If true, it means that all three German pocket battleships are now sunk or out of action.

NO CONFIRMATION

LONDON, —(INS)— British admiralty officials said today that at present they have received no official confirmation of reports that the German pocket battleship Luetzow, formerly the Deutschland, has run aground on the Norwegian coast.

REPORT BRITISH SUB SUNK

BERLIN—(INS)—A German flying boat bombed and sank a British submarine off the Norwegian southwest coast April 15, German authorities announced today.

Identity of the lost British submersible was not disclosed by the German announcement.

(Editor's Note: The British admiralty yesterday announced that the submarine Thistle, operating in the North Sea, was considerably overdue at its base and presumed to have been lost.)

(Today the British admiralty stated that the commander, four officers and 48 ratings were believed to have been lost aboard the Thistle.)

RAID STAVANGER AGAIN

LONDON — (INS) — Coincident with claims by a rescued Norwegian seaman that the German liner Bremen was sunk off Norway with 15,000 Nazi troops aboard, the British air ministry today announced a series of slashing new attacks on Stavanger and other points along the Norwegian coast.

Stavanger, already bombarded by heavy naval guns and previously attacked by the air force, was again singled out for destruction in the belief Adolf Hitler planned to use it as a jumping-off place for blistering raids on England.

Three British planes failed to return from the new onslaughts, an air ministry communique said. But many German airplanes were said to have been hit on the ground or in the air and a German submarine hit. Extensive damage was done to the Stavanger runways by exploding bombs, the announcement declared.

RUBBER CHECK MASTERPIECE

Had All Bouncing Qualities But Clerk Cashed It.

PORTLAND, Me.—Police have what they deem the nonpareil in "rubber" checks.

Printed by hand on plain paper, it was drawn for $20 on a nonexistent "Boston School Trush company." The names of a signer, payee, and endorser were the same and all were handprinted.

A dress-shop clerk accepted the "check" in payment for merchandise and gave a man $9 in change, police were told.

GYM EXHIBITION

BUCYRUS—Students in the physical education classes of Miss Evelyn St. Clair and Alex Kish will present a program of dancing and gymnastics in a public assembly in the high school Monday night. In addition to the program in the auditorium a display of art and shop work completed by high school students will be on exhibition.

SCOOTER TOOT

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—What next? Herbert Marcus, 64, rides a motor scooter. Following a collision with an automobile, Marcus was found guilty of drunken driving—on a scooter.

MARCH STRIKES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reported today the U. S. conciliation service settled 149 strikes, threatened strikes, and lock-outs, involving 82,424 workers, during March.

Eyebug, By Gad!

Even though scientists laugh at such claims, Fred F. McElman of Hollywood, Cal., persists that his eyebug "Oscar," has an age-old power of removing foreign particles from a person's eye. McElman came to the front following a controversy over a Palo Alto, Cal., eyebug, frowned on by Stanford university scientists as pure "bosh." McElman says that when "someone in our family gets something in his eye, we get out the bug, test it in a saucer of vinegar and if it moves we put it in the eye where it gathers up annoying foreign particles."

DIES AT AGE 48

Howard Funk, Sharon Township, Dies at Hospital.

SHELBY—Howard Funk, 48, of Sharon township died today at Memorial hospital following an illness of 10 days of peritonitis.

Born July 4, 1891 in Jackson township, Mr. Funk had made his home in that township almost all of his life. He was a member of Lutheran church and O'Brien post of American Legion Surviving is his wife, Audrey.

Funeral services will be held at the Dye funeral home at 2:30 p. m. Saturday with Rev. D. B. Young of First Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in Oakland cemetery.

FARLEY SETS BAD EXAMPLE

Postmaster's Christmas Card Was Eighteen Days Late.

LA GRANDE, Ore.—(AP)—Robert E. Bradford, of La Grande, thinks his kick to the Postoffice Department for delayed delivery of mail will receive better than usual attention.

The complaint was launched when a Christmas card arrived 18 days after Christmas.

It was sent to him by James A. Farley, who, as Postmaster General, is responsible for expeditious movement of the mails.

Recent guests in the C. L. Richey home were Laura Richey, C. P. Bernhard, and wife, and daughter, Kathryn, Mrs. J. M. Fulmer and Byron Metcalf.

Military engineers were formerly called trench-masters.

GERMANS FIGHT TO HOLD ALLIES

Retreat Slowly Before Northern Advance; Little Chance to Escape Foreseen.

greatest determination against apparently hopeless odds.

There was no indication that the Germans could find a way out unless they managed to drive with their whole force along the railroad to the Swedish frontier and there hand themselves over to the Swedes.

Reports believed to be reliable were that one British force, effecting a landing in the Herjangerfjord just north of Narvik, joined a strong Norwegian force and defeated a German attempt to retreat to the north.

The Germans were driven down the Narvik-Elvegaardsmoen road toward the outskirts of Narvik, it was reported.

The second British force was believed blocking the sole means of German retreat to the south, after establishing a base at the village of Ankenes, on the south side of the Beisfjord just south of Narvik.

The situation in Narvik town remained unclear. There were some reports that the Germans had been driven out entirely. But there were alternative reports that the British designed to cut off all means of retreat for the German force of from 2,000 to 2,500 men, then storm the Rombak Heights on the north side of the Rombakfjord and finally take the whole town, an operation for which they seemed prepared to allot several days.

British forces landed first on a fjord, the name of which I have been asked not to disclose, within 12½ miles of Narvik. The main force landed Tuesday, and was accomplished within six hours. The British landing force carried full equipment including light mountain artillery.

Nazis Deny British Troops Are In Narvik.

BERLIN —(AP)— A categorical denial that British troops are in Narvik or that the British have been there at any time since the German occupation of Norway was issued today by DNB, the official German news agency.

DNB'S statement said:

"On April 16, the London radio broadcast an official announcement that British warships had blockaded the entrance of Rombaksfjord. Then, under the protection of artillery, British troops were reported to have landed in Narvik. German troops were supposed to have retired to the hills, where they found themselves in a pincers between British and Norwegian troops which were closing in on a mountainous region.

"It is established by informed sources that: the British forces merely bombarded Narvik on April 16; Narvik was not only on April 16 in German hands, but the Germans are there today, and are in possession not only of the harbor, but of the city.

"Norwegian troops who were supposed to have caught the Germans in a pincers were, through the seizure of the Lofoten railway from Narvik to the Swedish border, forced over the border, leaving behind them dead and captives."

In a later statement DNB said additional information received from Narvik early this afternoon reported the situation there unchanged.

RELIEF FORUM

BUCYRUS—Carl N. Graves of the state department of public welfare spoke on state relief problems at an open meeting of the Crawford county board of public assistance. He presented statistical data relative to relief work.

Other speakers were R. L. Hertzer, county relief director; Mrs. Ethel Smith, Bucyrus relief director and Jay Nichols, Galion relief director.

DIES AT HOME

Mrs. Odessa May Collins, 55, Dead at Bellville.

BELLVILLE—Mrs. Odessa May Collins, 55, wifeof Alfred M. Collins, died yesterday afternoon at her home.

She was a native of Monroe township, and was a member of St. Paul's Salem Lutheran church and of Circle No. 1 of the Ladies Aid.

She leaves 15 immediate survivors. They are her husband, three children, Mrs. Fred Miller, Floyd Collins of Bellville and Genn Collins of Mansfield; two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Aubrey Allen and Mrs. Fred Gordon, Mansfield, John and Ira McDaniel, Bellville; two half sisters and one half brother, Mrs. John Ally, Butler, Mrs. Tillie Oakes and Bert Schrader of Bellville; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in theh Lutheran church Friday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Joseph O'Morrow officiating. Interment will be made in Bellville cemetery.

INCORPORATED

BUCYRUS—Papers of incorporation have been received by Walter E. Bauer Post, 1078, Veterans of Foreign Wars, for a club and club rooms to be located at 108 Poplar street.

Names appearing on the papers were Glenn Senseney, Chester Huneke and George J. Barth. On the building committee are S. L. Powers, Arthur Rowley, Stanley Acree and Oren Cover.

LODGE MEETS

CRESTLINE — The initiatory degree was conferred on one candidate at the Tuesday night session of Crestline Lodge of Odd Fellows. Noble Grand D. D. Sipe presided. One new petition was read and one by transfer.

At next Tuesday's meeting the local lodge will confer the degree on a class of candidates from Tiro.

MARRIED IN EAST

MILLERSBURG — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Elva Lucy Anderman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Anderman of Philadelphia, Pa., and Virgil Ling of Trenton, N. close North Mulberry street at West Fourth street as they extend their trenching operations on the thoroughfare west of Mulberry street. It is expected that it will be another week before North Walnut street is opened.

WPA is now working a double shift on the job in order to speed up the work, but lack of men and equipment and the government's regulation against night employment hinders any faster pace, Statler said.

Meanwhile Mayor William J. Locke said that WPA and the state highway department would be asked to consider a request from property owners on West Fourth street between North Mulberry and North Weldon avenue for the widening of the street during its reconstruction.

Locke said that the city had been asked by Fred Bristor, owner of the frontage on the north side of the block, and the Y. M. C. A. and Hayden and Riggs, owners of the property on the south side, to widen the street from 34 to 36 feet to conform with the width east of Mulberry.

REHEARSALS ON OPERETTA HELD

BUCYRUS—Rehearsals are being completed for the presentation Friday, April 26, of the operetta "The Rose Maiden," by the Bucyrus high school glee clubs.

Sixty voices will be heard with solo parts sung by Gladys Gallinger, Maxine Hailey, Martha Ann Lown, Eileen Sickmiller, Mary Ellen Thompson, John Black, George Hickson and William Spaid.

An instrumental ensemble will be provided by John Osborn and Mary Ellen Thompson, pianos; Ione Hertzer and Carl Ley, violin; Janet Beller, clarinet; Dean Krauter, trumpet, and Robert Anguish, trombone.

CARNIVAL

BUCYRUS—Tuesday, April 23, has been set as the date of the annual spring carnival of the Kearsley Parent-Teacher association. Plans are also under way for the annual May picnic for which committees have been appointed.

100 MANSFIELD FAMILIES READY TO DIG GARDENS

Prepare to 'Stake Claims' On 1940 Community Project of Delano Lodge.

More than 100 Mansfield families will soon start "staking their claims" in the community gardens, sponsored annually by Delano lodge, Empire Sheet and Tin Plate union, for it's members.

The cool wet weather has delayed progress so far in getting the ground in condition for planters to start their work but it is expected that plows will be turning the soil next week on at least one garden tract north of the city.

Union officers said they have had one piece of ground let to them and are negotiating for another on Park avenue east road. They hope to be able to obtain several tracts near the city in order to enlarge the farming project above the 45 acres seeded last spring.

The community garden is not a hobby with Delano lodge members, but a serious effort on the part of the families to supply actual food needs during the summer and obtain a winter supply.

War Time Idea.

The plan dates back several years when the lodge hit upon the war-time idea for furnishing foodstuffs for members' families during the time when the steel plant was operating at low capacity.

Last year the members staked out their claims on two tracts near the city and each planted a variety of produce seeds supplied through the union.

Besides contributing to the good fellowship and spirit of co-operation within the organization, it was estimated that collectively they had harvested $15,000 worth of crops last fall.

From their 100 by 150 foot individual tracts each member last year reaped 12 bushels of potatoes and a plentiful supply of tomatoes and sweet corn. Hundreds of families outside the union shared in the abundance of produce raised on the land, members giving away the surpluses.

"I Was A Victim of Neuritic Pain Agony"

Well-known Mansfield resident tells of awful suffering — Pains kept him awake nights, made life a misery — Then he tried RUX Compound and experienced his first real relief and rest in a long time.

Perhaps you, too are one of the many victims of Neuritic, Rheumatic, or Neuralgic Pains.

Such suffering often seems more than one can endure. These pains "age" you—kill your pleasure—may even cause you to lose your job and make your a burden on your family. Start NOW getting relief with RUX COMPOUND—the modern, sensible way.

The Secret of RUX

Because RUX COMPOUND is a liquid, internal medicine it is readily absorbed by the blood and carried to painful muscles where its pure powerful relief ingredients are available to act QUICKLY on pain and congestion. Contains no opiates or dope. RUX has relieved thousands. Read what P. H. Micheal, well-known resident of Mansfield, says about RUX.

An Amazing Experience

(Mr. P. H. Micheal, well-known property owner and former insurance man of Mansfield, Ohio, tells of his remarkable experience with RUX.)

"I have suffered with acute Neuritic Pains in my leg. My pains would bother me at night and day. When worn-out at 4:00 or 5:00 o'clock in the morning I would get a few hours sleep, but not complete rest or relief from pain agony. After taking RUX, I have experienced my first real rest in a long time. I tried many, many medicines, but none has given me the relief that RUX Compound has, and I would certainly suggest that other sufferers try RUX."

Why You Should Use RUX

Liniments and external heat applications often do not reach the pain. That is way so many modern physicians favor the internal method, using ingredients such as contained in RUX. In addition to its pain-relieving ingredients RUX also contains alkalizers and diuretics to help reduce excess acidity—an important factor in the relief of Rheumatic, Neuralgic and Neuritic Pain attacks. The ingredients in RUX are printed on the label so you, your doctor and your druggist can see what it contains.

Make the RUX Test!

So many people have found relief with RUX that no matter what you have tried, be fair with yourself and make the RUX test today. It costs so little—only a few cents a day—yet may mean so much to your enjoyment and happiness. Come to our store and let our pharmacist show you this remarkable medicine. RUX comes in three convenient sizes—the largest is most economical. WE RECOMMEND IT.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, THURSDAY, APRIL 18, 1940.

This would be a good time for European atlas-makers to take a well-earned vacation.

Cheer up, children—don't be too disturbed about Little Orphan Annie's present plight. Older readers will recall that she's been in equally serious predicaments before.

At least one political analyst contends that Dewey's lead over Vandenburg in Wisconsin practically assures Taft's nomination—which gives an idea of how simple the whole thing is.

Propaganda and Patriotism

THERE is a ferment of propaganda in this country today, which will steadily increase. It is gentle and clever in behalf of the free countries with which most Americans naturally sympathize, and clever but not so gentle on the part of official or voluntary representatives of slave governments.

We do not want to poison our souls with suspicion and imagine a spy or a paid propagandist for Satan in every assemblage and around every corner. But it is a time for practical intelligence and patriotism. Sanity and moderation must be preserved, and so must our American freedoms of speech, press and assemblage. The Bill of Rights must continue to function. Some mistakes were made about that during the last war.

There are laws to cover any situations likely to arise, and public officials whose duty it is to enforce those laws. They should be held to their duty. They should also be withheld from the excessive zeal which sometimes develops in times of stress. Bitterness and trouble come when private citizens undertake to censor and punish fellow-citizens or alien residents.

An Editorial for One Mansfield Boy

SOMEWHERE in Mansfield there is a boy to whom this editorial is especially directed. He is a very normal sort of boy, doing at least average school work, enjoying comfortable home surroundings and not subjected to strict discipline either at home or in school.

Being a normal boy, he looks around and finds that some other boys have things that he would like to have, but which his parents tell him they cannot afford to buy for him.

Then, being a normal boy, he wonders why other people should have things that he cannot have, and, lacking early discipline, a retained animal instinct may suggest taking something that belongs to someone else—or this thought may be put in his mind by a companion.

That instinct is not as uncommon as you might think, my boy, and you should not be surprised at having such a thought. Your main concern should be in successfully combatting it—so that it doesn't get you into trouble.

Sometime you will learn about the word "kleptomania"—which means "an irresistible impulse to steal," and you will wonder how there can be people who are thus afflicted. You may later discover that the so-called "gambling instinct" is very closely akin to the impulse to steal—as both are rooted in the same desire to get something for nothing—to find a substitute for productive work.

Young as you are, you may think that the three boys now in the county jail charged with committing a hold-up on Main street last Friday were very foolish to attempt any such thing—but uncontrolled instinct does strange things to many people and cannot be trusted as a guide to conduct.

Nor should you let the platitude, "Everybody does it," lead you into practices and habits which generations of experience have demonstrated to be dangerous—for small delinquencies have a knack of quickly growing into larger ones, and often into serious crimes. And, it may also be well to note, a college education is not always a dependable safeguard against misbehavior.

Those Gridiron Dinners

THOSE Gridiron Dinners held in Washington are excellent lessons in democracy. There could be nothing like them anywhere else in the world. It was perhaps a more striking situation than ever before when, last Saturday night, the president and vice president, heads of both houses of congress, justices of the Supreme Court and leading candidates for the presidency all sat and took it, while the newspaper men raked them fore and aft with wit and irony.

It must have been especially impressive to the foreign diplomats present. Many of them probably wondered how many of the correspondents would have been shot at sunrise, in their own countries, for taking such liberties with the mighty. Also how many of the presidential candidates, "taking it" with such sportsmanship, would have been organizing armed insurrections if they were citizens of various other countries that might be named.

It's a fine thing to continue giving the Old World, and also some of our Pan-American neighbors, such lessons in applied democracy.

Trojan Horse Modernized

THAT old Trojan horse trick, used by the ancient Greeks to get inside the walls of beleaguered Troy, has just been given a modern version.

The Germans are credited with getting possession of the important Norwegian ore harbor, Narvik, by smuggling soldiers into the city in the guise of civilian sailors, and it took a tremendous effort on the part of the British to dislodge them. The same procedure was used on a still larger scale in Oslo.

One phase of this ancient strategy, however, is strikingly modern. The Germans increasingly substitute airships for wooden or mechanized horses, and drop from the sky, with weapons and supplies, into cities they cannot take by frontal attack.

Bike License Benefits

LICENSING of bicycles, widely recommended as a safety measure and already practiced in many places, has been found to have a further usefulness. In a city which began registering bicycles last spring, more than 1,700 lost or stolen bikes were recovered and returned to their owners between May 1, 1939, and January 1, 1940. Only 300 were recovered in all of 1938. Patrolmen in the bicycle bureau credit the registration law with the improvement.

It has also served to develop uniform regulations for bicycles, simplifying control of bikes in traffic. Registration, license plates and required fees help, also, to make youthful bike riders take their own traffic responsibility more seriously.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Of prime importance to a Broadway producer of musicals are competent song writers, and when Harry Kaufman was ready to go to work on "Keep Off the Grass" he hired James McHugh and Al Dubin, two of the cleverest melody and lyric writers in the business.

McHugh is a tall, wide-shouldered, easy-mannered fellow who looks a lot like Bugs Baer, the humorist. His son, Jimmy, 24, is married to Eddie Cantor's daughter, Edna, 19. When he got Kaufman's urgent wire he came on from the coast and established living quarters in the Warwick, which is to say he acquired a couple of extra rooms in which there were only a piano, a couple of chairs, a table, and paper.

His co-worker, Dubin, was already on the scene. As soon as McHugh was ready to go to work he, Dubin, and Kaufman went into conference. They discussed the book. They discussed Ray Bolger, and Jimmy Durante, and Jane Frohman, and the others, so as to ascertain the nature of the music to be written and to determine the right mood.

Then McHugh and Dubin, a rotund, sparse-haired and extremely affable individual, locked the door and went to work.

* * *

I DO not know Dubin personally. I have said hello to him and seen him on a few occasions. McHugh says he is one of the fastest writers he ever saw, or worked with. Dubin wrote the lyrics for all the Warner Gold-digger films. He wrote "Shuffle Off to Buffalo" and "Forty-Second Street." Last year with McHugh he wrote "South American Way" and all the score for "Streets of Paris," which is also a Kaufman show.

McHugh himself is an old experienced hand at writing hit tunes at haphazard and also in the scores of film or stage productions. He wrote the music for the Deanna Durbin pictures. He wrote "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

The first thing he does is to select a definite title. He and Dubin work over this carefully. That sets the gait, the tempo, the mood. Then he goes to work. As he finishes the melody he passes the sheet to Dubin, who is already at work thinking up lyrics. By the time McHugh is on another title, Dubin says, "See how this goes." He passes the manuscript back to McHugh, the lyrics penciled in.

* * *

FOR "Keep Off the Grass" McHugh probably wrote a hundred difefrent songs, and Dubin probably wrote 35 sets of lyrics. Out of this will come perhaps 15 numbers.

For writing this score they are being paid 4 per cent of the gross. Every time $25,000 comes into the box office (sometimes they take this much in a single week) they will get a thousand. This is quite aside from the royalties the song will bring in from radio, orchestras, and sheet music sales, not to forget phonograph records.

Unlike freelancers who write songs when the spirit moves them, composers of shows only begin to work after their scores are completed. They must attend all rehearsals and be ready to make swift revisions when a hitch develops, or a change is needed. At yesterday's rehearsal of the chorus I saw McHugh write 16 bars of new music in 16 minutes. He wrote it standing at the piano, one hand in his pocket, while the pianist sat there and played it, bar for bar, as it was written.

"That's sausage-grinding," McHugh explained. "No inspiration necessary. If you had to write a hundred words in a hurry, you could do it without thinking. What's a few bars more or less to a song-writer?"

No Bitterness Yet In GOP Camp

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON—So far there has been no bitterness in the Republican contest for the presidential nomination. In sharp contrast with the Democrats, where under the sweetness and light of the public statements there is gall and wormwood, the G. O. P. battles have not engendered any hates.

Up to now there is nothing to compare with the bitterness that the followers of John Nance Garner, Paul V. McNutt and James A. Farley feel about the White House denial of their chance to make a showing. The point is that in all three of these camps there is utter certainty that President Roosevelt will NOT run for a third term. If he does run, in spite of their convictions, their bitterness will, to a large degree, fade. Not that they will like it, but they will not feel that they have been cheated.

* * *

WHAT they believe now is that the president has no thought of running, and is using his own strength with the rank and file of Democratic voters, and with the big city Democratic machines—such as the Kelly-Nash organization in Chicago and Tammany in New York—to hamstring Garner, Farley and McNutt.

If their beliefs turn out to be correct—if the president chooses not to run, and throws his mantle on Cordell Hull, for instance—or the man he really wants if he does not want it himself, Robert H. Jackson—then the Garner, McNutt and Farley followings will believe they have suffered from the rawest gyp game in the history of presidential nominations.

No one will ever know, for instance, just what Garner would have done if the whole strength of the administration had not been thrown against him. How would he have fared, for example, in a primary fight with McNutt? Or with Farley? Or with Hull? Or, better still, in a fight with all of them? That would have been the original idea for presidential, preferential primaries—giving the voters of a party a real voice in the selection of their candidate for president. That is what the progressives of all parties were hoping for, and expecting, early in the century, though there has been any signs of its materializing.

* * *

BUT while there has been no real bitterness, yet, on the Republican side, a pretty good foundation is being laid for it. A great many astute political observers believe that Thomas E. Dewey hasn't a Chinaman's chance for the Republican nomination, despite his record of winning primaries and his strength as shown by various polls.

Leaving out the question of West Virginia, where a fight may or may not develop, the situation stands that in the very delegations of Wisconsin and Nebraska, where Dewey defeated Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, these observers say the Michigan senator will have more delegates, say on the fourth or fifth ballot, than will the New York district attorney. Also they are of the opinion that Senator Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, will have more delegates from each of these states than the man who won the primaries.

It is common knowledge that most of the regular Republican leaders, out in the country, personally like Senator Vandenberg better than any of the other candidates. It is also common knowledge that they agree more on issues with Senator Taft, and that they do not warm up to Dewey at all.

Regardless of the merits of the candidates, it is rather obvious that if Dewey should fail of the nominations by defections of delegates from states in which he won primaries, there will be plenty of bad blood.

Use of X-Ray as Tuberculosis Test.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A YOUNG Austrian doctor puzzled about how to tell when there was disease in the chest. He had been treating a patient who had no very striking symptoms, but when he died his lungs were found riddled with tuberculosis. The chest seldom shows pain to guide in a diagnosis as does the abdomen, and its stiff walls prevent one from feeling anything beneath it.

Finally he hit on the idea that a barrel containing air makes a different sound when struck than when full of liquid or flour. The chest normally is full of air, but when tuberculosis comes the air cells are infiltrated with solid matter. He tried out this idea by tapping the chest to elicit a sound, and so we have the method of percussion to discover densities in the chest.

Later another young doctor, a Frenchman, saw some children in the park playing the game of transmitting messages by scratching with a pin at one end of a board while the receiver of the message listened with his ear glued to the other end. The idea flashed into his mind that he might hear the sounds made by the lungs by placing a hollow tube against the chest wall and listening at the other end. He tried it and the stethoscope was born.

These methods allowed doctors to make a diagnosis of tuberculosis, and they are still used. But some cases escape them, especially very early cases.

Later, in 1882, when the German, Koch, discovered the cause of tuberculosis, the tubercle bacillus, he pointed out that it is present in the sputum of patients with the disease. But this procedure too often fails in early cases.

The tuberculin skin test, introduced by Pirquet in 1907, is reliable for early tuberculosis but does not tell where the tuberculosis is.

Value of X-ray.

The National Tuberculosis Association has asked that during April particular attention be called to the use of the x-ray in the diagnosis of tuberculosis. The x-ray is particularly valuable in finding tuberculosis which cannot be suspected by any other means.

The value of the x-ray is that the examination can be done rapidly, and that it detects a case in an early stage when it cannot be recognized otherwise. It can be applied to large groups of an apparently healthy population, such as schools, nursing schools, workers in industrial plants, soldiers in the army.

It results in a higher percentage of early, accurate diagnosis than any other method. Tuberculosis does not occur exclusively in the lungs, but the x-ray will detect it in bones and other organs.

The test is a great advantage to workers in industry. Young women in the unskilled labor groups furnish more victims of tuberculosis than all other occupational groups.

Not so very long ago tuberculosis of the lungs was called "consumption," and it was not recognized that a person had consumption until he became an emaciated, cough-racked, expectorating physical wreck. We see few cases of "consumption" of this kind nowadays.

The disease is now recognized earlier and treatment instituted at a period when it is most hopeful.

Editor News-Journal:

Today (Tuesday's issue) I read "April Morning" and I understand it is a column, "A Farmer's Diary," by Calvin A. Byers, which runs regularly in your paper and several others.

It appealed to me tremendously. It has atmosphere and style. I wish I could write as well.

You are fortunate to have such a column—if this is a fair sample: and by a local man, I understand.

WASHINGTON Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—Privately, the Norwegian government wishes that U. S. diplomat Daisy Harriman were not such a speedy worker. Within a few minutes after she was told by the Norwegian foreign minister, "We are at war with Germany," Mrs. Harriman had the message on the wires to the state department.

Now that message threatens to cost the Norwegians ten million dollars.

What the Norse did not foresee was that such a statement was tantamount to a declaration of war, which automatically invokes the U. S. neutrality act, immediately embargoes credits to Norway, and prevents their getting the ten million dollars already pledged to Norway by the Export-Import Bank.

The message from Minister Harriman came through in the small hours of Monday morning, April 8, and ever since, the state department and White House have been debating whether or not to invoke the neutrality act.

Actually they would like to hold off, in order to let Norway get the credits. So it is explained that the statement cabled by Mrs. Harriman, "We are at war," was a first-blush statement to which Norway does not want to be held. This is the point stressed by the Norwegian minister in Washington.

In the case of Finland the neutrality act never was invoked, and U. S. credits continued to move. But Finland made no declaration of war, and Roosevelt avoided finding "that a state of war exists."

In the case of Finland, also, Roosevelt knew that he had public opinion behind him. But the case of Norway is different. Its invasion is not isolated, like the Russo-Finnish conflict, but clearly is a part of the major operations between the Allies and Germany. To withhold application of the neutrality act might be regarded as a flagrant connivance, arousing the indignation of the Hiram Johnson isolationists.

Meantime, the Export-Import bank is holding a total of $56,000,000, previously committed to five countries in the Scandinavian group. This includes the $10,000,000 for Norway; $20,000,000 for Finland ($10,000,000 having been disbursed); $15,000,000 for Sweden; $10,000,000 for Denmark; and $1,000,000 for Iceland.

Viewing the possibility that these credits may never be disbursed, one official of the bank said, "We save a lot of money, don't we?"

Evie and Dewey.

BEAUTEOUS Evie Robert, wife of the secretary of the Democratic national committee, came up to handsome Tom Dewey at a reception the other day and said:

"I'm Evie Robert. I couldn't get anyone to introduce you to me, so I'm introducing myself."

"My gosh," replied the leading Republican candidate, "I didn't know you looked like this."

Afterward someone asked Mrs. Robert what Dewey was like. Replied she: "Like any little man who has a big blond come up suddenly behind him."

Salonika Once Again.

THE move to watch for as Italy prepares to jump is the occupation of Salonika, famous Allied embarkation base during the World war.

The French and British have planned to use Salonika once again as the port at which to land General Weygand's 300,000 French troops; plus the Anzacs, in a drive through the Balkans to prevent Germany from capturing Rumania's oil wells.

However, the Hitler-Mussolini strategy (and they seem to be working closer and closer together) is for Italy to reach Salonika first.

This is why the Italian fleet is now in the Aegean Sea, siting squarely between Syria and Salonika. This is also why Mussolini's puppet radio speakers and editorial writers have been whipping up the Italian people—who are not at all enthusiastic over war.

An Old Team

(A FARMER'S DIARY)

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

I SAW a man plowing in the field with a team of dark bay horses. The morning dew was heavy on the grass and the early chill put spirit into the animals. He had already made two rounds about a small "haw" land. At the corner he stopped then went to the horses' heads, spoke to them and stroked their willing noses. He raised the heavy collars from each pair of shoulders and readjusted them. As he did so the lead horse put his muzzle down upon the farmer's neck and pulled off his old felt hat. He held it by the rim, like a playful child, awaiting his master's word.

That farmer was no stranger to me, although I had never met him before. I sensed the mutual understanding between him and his team.

"Good morning," I said, as I struggled up the bank beside the low rail fence.

"Good mornin'," he said, surprised. "Where'd you come from? I'm just restin' my team. They're not so young as they once was—and I'm not either."

"They're a fine gentle team," I suggested.

"Yes—they're like myself—they grew up on this farm. I was a youngster yet when they was born. I used to play with 'em out in the pasture. They've always stood at the gate and watched and whinnered to me. This'n on the near side is 26 and the other'n is 25, but for the first two hours you'd never tell it. They're both peppy and full of mischief. I'm always afeared they'll get sore shoulders when I start plowin' and they're 'soft.' It did happen once when they were colts—since then I've been more careful.

"Yep—them horses are both past votin' age and I don't believe farmin' 'll be the same when they're gone. My neighbor across the road says I'm crazy to fool around with an old team like that—but even if it ain't practical, I claim there's some things worth more'n bein' practical, and one of 'em is to give animals a square deal.

"Why, if I'd sell that team I couldn't sleep for fear somebody would abuse 'em. If I do buy a younger team I'm goin' to keep these right here until they die of old age, just like I hope my folk'll do with me when I can't work no more."

I shook the farmer's strong soiled hand before I left. His blue eyes were a little moist. I felt that I had met a man—"out where ill thoughts die and good are born—out in the fields with God."

CHAPTER XIX

Elaine sighed and passed a troubled hand over her eyes. Clara really felt hurt about her refusal to accept her assistance when she had gotten her father's promise to give Elaine a job in the store. But before she could explain further Betty adroitly changed the subject.

"Dr. Stuart is still in love with you," she told Elaine with a teasing smile. "All the way up to New York he kept telling me how marvelous and sweet you were." She looked archly up at the ceiling, "You know, if I were a girl who wasn't going to Paris, I would be listening to Dr. Stuart. I'll bet he can say a lot of swell things under a moon."

Elaine shook her head and smiled. "I'm not going to Paris, but I do have my own boyfriend. Eric is right here in New York." She turned eagerly to Clara. "He's working as a stock clerk in your father's store!"

"I'll have him fired!" Clara declared, eyes flashing. "When I think of the way he treated you I almost want to kill him."

Her vehemence shocked Elaine and, concerned for Eric's job, she laid a restraining hand on Clara's. "No, you musn't do that. Eric and I are going to be married soon. As a matter of fact, we'll be married as soon as he gets himself straightened out with his job. He left his mother almost two weeks ago to come here and marry me."

* * *

Before either of the girls could overcome their surprise Monticelli, who had been standing quietly near the door, stamped over to them, face black with rage.

"If you are going to gossip all morning get out!" He commanded. "This is a studio, not a sewing circle." His baleful eyes settled upon Clara. "I thought you wanted to discuss that radio program."

"So we did," Betty acknowledged with a little shake of her head. "Clara's pop is going to put a show on the air. It won't be a big program and it will be broadcast over a small station. He sort of wants to get an idea of the value of radio advertising. And Clara here . . . "

"It's my father's program so I'll tell the news," Clara interrupted. "I talked my father into giving you a chance to sing on it. He's expecting us to bring you over to the store this morning."

Elaine glanced puzzled from one to the other, then at Monticelli. Sing on the radio? But that was ridiculous!

"But I'm not good enough," she protested, wishing with all her heart that she were. "Why I've just begun my voice training."

"Monticelli says you're good enough." Clara disposed of that with a shrug.

Monticelli glared at her, shaking his leonine head. "I said no such thing. I said that only one singer out of a hundred on the radio has a voice that's any good. And I told you that Elaine has a voice as good as the ninety-nine other hams."

"It's the same thing," Betty decided, refusing to quibble over such a small matter. She rose from the bench and tugged at Elaine's arm. "Come on, we can't waste all day. Even a department store owner has something to do besides sit in his office and wait for you to make up your mind."

* * *

As they speeded uptown in a taxi, Elaine was somewhat dazed by all that had happened and worried because Clara had threatened to have Eric fired.

"Clara, you aren't really going to have Eric fired?" she asked in a worried voice. "Maybe he did act rather strangely at the time of the accident but he's straightening himself out and he's really working hard to prove he loves me."

Clara pursed her lips as though she were giving the matter deep thought and Elaine found herself trembling with suspense. She knew that if Eric were discharged it would mean the end of all her hopes of happiness with him. Eric had been lucky in landing this job; if he had difficulty in finding another, there was no telling what his reaction would be, he—he might even throw up the sponge and return home!

"I won't say anything to dad," Clara promised finally. "But Elaine, we might as well get this matter straight here and now. I like you, and after what Eric did, I don't like him I'm willing and eager to help you all I can—you, Elaine, not Eric. So if either of you entertain any hope that I'll get my dad to give him a soft job, you're going to be disappointed. Any raise or advancement he gets he will have to earn."

"Well, of all things!" Betty declared, really angry with Clara. Her eyes blazed. "Elaine didn't ask you to help him and you know darned well she wouldn't. You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Clara Blanchard!"

"That's all right, Betty," Elaine said hastily, anxious to keep the peace. "I know what Clara really meant. She thought that if I saw Eric beginning to feel tired of his job, I'd try to have her get him an easier one."

Her brown eyes were serious as she glanced at Clara. "But I won't ever ask that. If Eric marries me his mother will disown him, and although I personally would feel bad if he proved he couldn't take it, I would never try to make things easier for him If he fails, well, it will be just as well that he didn't marry me. If he succeeds, as I think he will, he'll never need help from any one again."

Clara nodded her head as the taxi slid to a halt before the huge, department store. "That's all I wanted to hear, Elaine. And if you love him that much, I'll be rooting for him too."

"You talk like a pack of sentimental old ladies," Betty snorted as they walked into the store. "Of course Eric will make good."

Elaine was silent. She found herself wishing she could be as sure as Betty that everything would turn out all right.

"Daydreaming?" Betty asked with a pert little grin. But her eyes were soft and understanding as they entered the elevator. "Eric will be all right Elaine."

Although Elaine had often heard Clara speak of her father, she had never been introduced to him and she was surprised when she walked into his office to find a grey-haired, grey-bearded man sitting before a glass-topped mahogany desk. Somehow she had always imagined him to be younger; certainly Clara had always referred to him more as a comrade and chum than as a father. She felt awed by his stern, dignified appearance and was surprised to see Betty walk nonchalantly across the room, perch herself familiarly upon the desk and snatch the letter he was reading from his hand.

"Pleasure before business," Betty told him, unperturbed by his frown as he glanced up. "And don't look so cross, you grumpy old bear. You should be glad that three beautiful ladies condescended to call upon you."

He laughed dryly and stood up as Elaine and Clara approached the desk. "The only time beautiful ladies call upon me is when they want something." Eyes twinkling, he extended a friendly hand to Elaine. "You don't mind if I call you Elaine, do you? Clara talks so much about you that I feel as though you're one of the family."

Elaine grasped his hand firmly, looking him straight in the eye, liking him instantly as she realized that Clara inherited her love of fun from him. She knew now why it was that Clara spoke of him as a treasured chum rather than as a parent. Despite his dignified appearance he gave the impression of being a man who would enjoy frolicking with a spirited daughter.

* * *

She took the chair he offered and sat down, suddenly becoming aware of that same feeling of nervousness which had pervaded her being the first time she sang for Monticelli. But the nervousness on that occasion couldn't begin to compare with the breathless, empty, distraught condition she felt now. She looked anxiously at him as he sat down on a corner of the desk—Betty had usurped his chair and from all appearances was determined not to relinquish it.

"I suppose you know the reason for this visit," Mr. Blanchard began after a brief moment. "The other evening I was discussing with Clara some plans the directors and I had made concerning a broadcast and she immediately demanded that I give you an opportunity of trying for a place on it. Would you care to sing over the radio?"

FINALLY FINDS PLACE TO LIVE AT AGE OF 109

Woman Decides to Settle Down, Begin to Enjoy Life; Brother Is 115.

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Cal.—(U.P.)—Senora Plasidas Martinez Amarillas, aged 109, has decided to settle down here and begin the enjoyment of life.

She chose Mountain View after a life of wandering because her youngest son, Theodore Amarillas, lives here and there are enough children and grandchildren to keep her busy for a long time.

Senora Amarillas was born in the State of Sonora, Mexico in 1830. She was one of many children, but as her father had plenty of land there was ample space for all to play without cluttering things up too much.

In 1865, when she was 35, she came to the United States with her husband and settled at Phoenix, Ariz.

At that time peace between the North and the South was a year old and Mexico had decided 17 years before to cede California to the United States.

At Phoenix, her husband went to work driving stage coaches for the government while she remained at home and took care of 11 children.

Sixty years later, when the senora was 95, she heard of Los Angeles and came west to live with a son. There she enjoyed everything Los Angeles had to offer—from the moving picture studios to the Santa Anita race track. She admitted at the time she liked to be around where things were happening.

In 1935, however, at the more mature age of 104, she felt the urge of wanderlust, as well as a desire to see another one of her sons, so she took a bus and came to Mountain View, a mere jaunt of 420 miles.

When she discovered so many children—grandchildren and great grandchildren—at Mountain View, she knew she had found her place and at once took over life she had at 35 and became "boss" of the house.

She recently posed for press photographers, smoking her pipe the while, and wisecracking with photographers by saying there would be a charge for posing. She said she had learned that at Hollywood.

"But I don't see why people come to see me," she said. "After all I am the baby of the family. My brother, who still lives in Sonora, is 115."

Magician's Trunk Trick Pleases On Vaudeville Bill

The Great Raymond, magician and illusionist, brings the usual bag of tricks to the Madison stage show which opened yesterday and continues through today.

Raymond, who has a pleasing stage presence and appearance, does one trick—his last one—which is as good as any ever seen here, and probably one of the fastest illusions staged. In just a few moments he changes places with a woman inside a locked truck, who is handcuffed and tied inside a bag, while Raymond is in evening clothes on the stage.

Several of the acts advertised in advance were not in the show, but there is a good woman contortionist and Litzka (Mrs. Raymond,) pleases with several harp numbers.

The stage show is supplemented with the usual picture program.

BIGGEST CATTLE YEAR

DODGE CITY, Kan.—(AP)—Cattle trail days are over, but more cattle were handled through Dodge City last year than any year since 1886. Shipments in 1939 totaled 150,000 head, Santa Fe railroad executives report. Dodge City once was one of the big cattle shipping points of the southwest.

Books For Children

(Available at Mansfield Public Library)

One would scarcely expect a snail's travels to be the worthy subject of a book, but anyone who doubts it should first read about Akmed. Another adventure story of a more usual type is suggested for some other middlesized reader during the week-end.

THE TRAVELS OF A SNAIL, by Eleanor Hoffmann—In far away Africa where snails are considered to be a delicacy at mealtime, Akmed grew up in one of the finest vineyards. He held no fears of being served at a banquet, but rather considered it an honor if only he could first visit America. How that became possible is delightfully explained in this brief story.

GRASSHOPPER GOLD, by Grace and Olive Barnett—Emma and Jonathan went with their parents in search of gold. After many long days on a river steamer they took a long trip over land and finally arrived at the Montana ranch. The mysterious, water-spotted letter which guided them West is explained at the end of the book.

The Molly Maguires was the name of a secret society in Ireland in 1843.

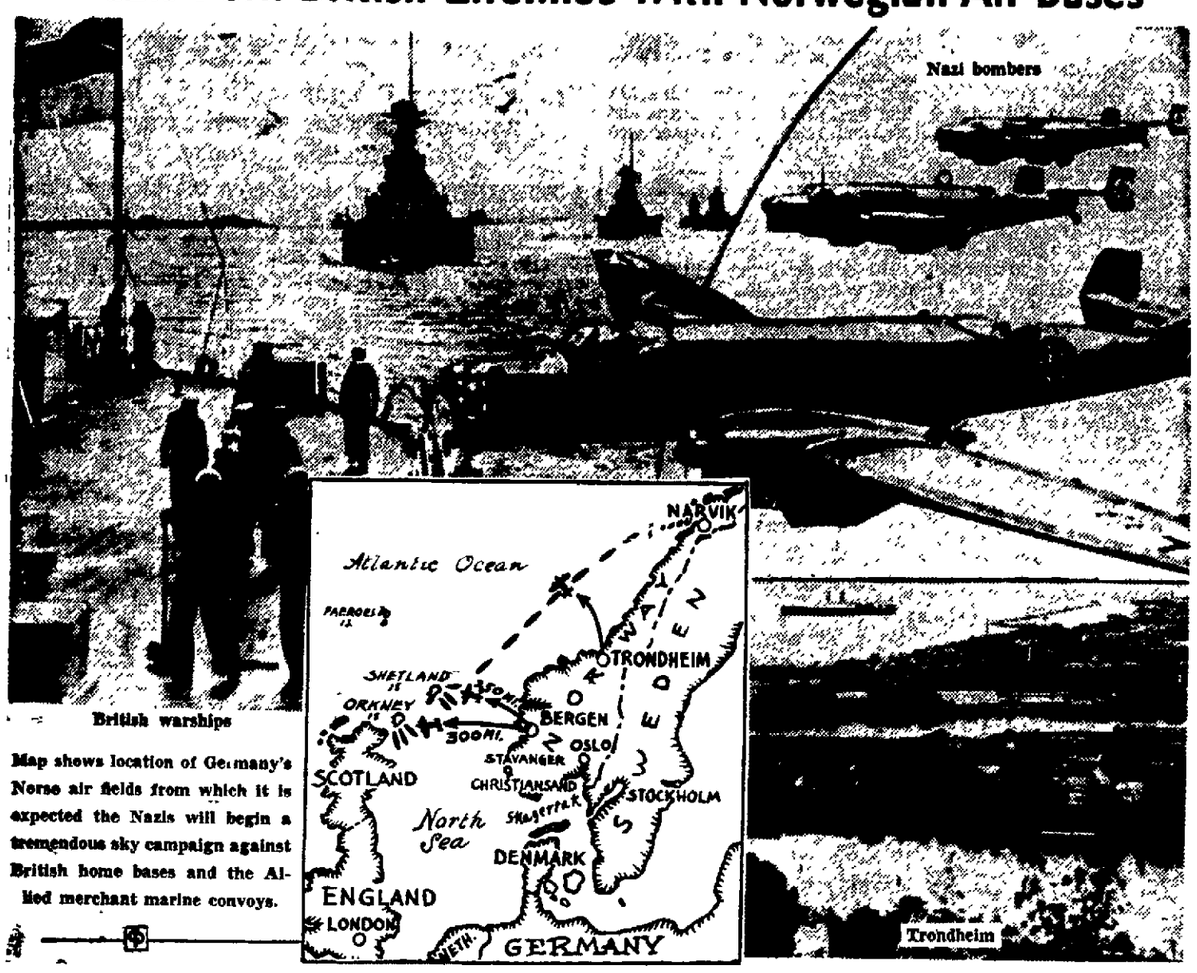
Nazis Peril British Lifelines With Norwegian Air Bases



Map shows location of Germany's Norse air fields from which it is expected the Nazis will begin a tremendous sky campaign against British home bases and the Allied merchant marine convoys.

Germany has reportedly massed huge air armadas on Norway's west coast cities of Trondheim and Bergen. This places the British naval base at Scapa Flow, Scotland, and the Shetland Islands in an extremely vulnerable position to Nazi bombers flying out of Bergen. The base farther north at Trondheim is geographically perfect for fast Nazi bombers and pursuit planes to harass British supply ships headed for Narvik, now in British hands. The destruction of these Norse bases is now a British aim.

MAKE MACHINE FOR WOOL TEST

Treasury Department Perfects Machine to Accurately Calculate Fibre.

BOSTON—(INS)—In the interests of more accurate calculation of wool fibre as differentiated from dirt, burrs, sand and other impurities, the United States Treasury Department has perfected a machine that picks wool from the bale and samples it for an appraisal of the quality.

The machine, which was 2½ years in the making, includes a steel tube with razor blades that penetrate the bale and cut out a sample. The sample is put through a laboratory test in the machine, and within a twenty second period the wool is dry cleaned, scoured, rinsed, dried and conditioned, ready for an appraisal.

After cleaning the wool, the solvents used in the process are dried, recovered and refined for additional use.

The machine will be kept in Boston, chief wool importing center of the United States. Samples of wool from other ports will be brought here for testing and returned in moisture proof containers

DRIVER FINED

BUCYRUS — Roy L. Myers of Tiffin was fined $100 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge in the court of Mayor W. F. Whiteamire Wednesday. Myers was arrested Tuesday after he drove into a parked car belonging to Robert Breisinger.

TAG DAY

Proving That Bootleggers Never Should Break Traffic Rules.

HOUSTON, Tex. —(AP)— Three policemen, bearing five traffic tickets that had accumulated against an automobile owner, rapped on his door.

A girl opened it. The unmistakable aroma of sour mash floated out, so the officers went in. They found a still, 50 gallons of mash and two gallons of whisky.

An Early Start With Potatoes.

Early potatoes can be planted just as soon as the ground is workable. Even if there should be a late frost it will do no harm if it is not severe enough to penetrate the ground to the depth at which the seed potatoes are planted.

One method of getting an early start with potatoes and gaining about 14 growing days, is shown in the accompanying illustration. Cut the potatoes into pieces, each piece having one or two eyes, then place in a flat. Cover with sand, as illustrated, and place in a warm room, in sunlight if possible. The seed potatoes will then form roots and start sprouts from the eyes. Leave in the flats of sand for ten days or two weeks before planting out. Do not let the sprouts grow too long before planting.

Do not water the seed potatoes while they are growing in the flats or it will cause them to produce slender soft white growths instead of dark-colored sprouts desired.

GOES TO PANAMA

BUCYRUS — Burnell Dowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dowler, sailed today on the S. S. Panama for the Panama Canal Zone where he has accepted a position as machinist with the U. S. government. He expects to reach Cristobal in one week.

DIVORCE JUDGE POINTS OUT RECONCILIATION COURT NEED

CHICAGO — (INS) — After 30 years on the bench, Judge Joseph B. Sabath of Chicago's Superior Court estimates he has heard more than 50,000 divorce cases—probably more than any other jurist in the world.

And out of this vast experience, the 70-year-old jurist feels he has discovered a means to reduce divorces in the United States.

Judge Sabath advocates the establishment of a "reconciliation court" where married couples whose difficulties are not insoluble can go for expert advice. By this means many married persons who now end up with divorces may be reconciled, Judge Sabath believes.

The veteran divorce court jurist himself has been able to arrange reconcilations in 3,400 cases, so feels he has a sound foundation for his idea of a "reconciliation court."

Such a court, according to Judge Sabath, would be presided over by a judge whose duty would be to attempt to solve whatever troubles may be confronting the couple coming to him. He would not hear cases in which a divorce bill already has been filed.

"In that way," Judge Sabath explained, "we'd be giving the couples determined to part every chance to get together again, to try to find some common ground which would prevent a break-up. I believe that except in extreme cases—in cases where there can be little doubt that the husband and wife are mismated—the divorce problems would be solved.

"Good common sense, rather than law, should guide a divorce court."

GRADUATION GAG

LAWRENCE, Kans.—(AP)—It's the custom of college presidents to shake the hand of seniors when they hand them their university degrees. A Kansas State senior has wagered $25 he will wear a false hand and leave it dangling in the hand of the president when he walks across the stage, come June commencement time.

NOT THE DATE, IT'S THE IDEA

Aviators Don't Like Calling It 'Thirteenth' Annual.

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Superstitious aviators, having finished Miami's 12 annual all-American air maneuvers, weren't sure they wanted to enter the one planned for next year because it would bear the unlucky tag of the 13th.

The folks running the affair put their heads together and came up with this name for the next one:

Miami's 1941 all-American air maneuvers.

That made everything all right.

Kissing the hands of great men was an ancient Grecian custom.

SMALLER CLUBS TAKE ENTERTAINING LEAD

Games, Cards Replace Papers and Programs as Study Groups End Season; Plans for Future Events Announced.

ALTHOUGH a few study groups are still meeting, the entertainment of Mansfielders has turned now to the smaller social organizations, and games and cards take more time than papers and programs. Mrs. Henry Duffey, 493 Sloane avenue, entertained members of the Carnation club yesterday at her home.

Pink and blue appointments were used on the refreshment table, and Mrs. Nicholas Frisch, who was celebrating her birthday, was honored by the group. Mrs. Eldon Sharrock was presented with a shower of personal gifts. The May meeting, the exact date of which has not been set, will be held with Mrs. Frisch, East Raleigh avenue.

* * *

Members of the Merry C. C. club were the guests of Miss Lucile Beck, 114 West Fifth street, yesterday and games were won with prizes going to the Misses Martha Grassbaugh and Donna Bowman. Plans were made for a dinner to be held next month. Miss Elizabeth Cole, McPherson street, will entertain May 15.

* * *

Pinochle was in play, and prizes were awarded to Miss Elizabeth Booz, Mrs. Jack Flaharty, Miss Elizabeth Shadek and Mrs. Russell Indorf yesterday when Mrs. Robert Barrett, McElroy road, entertained members of the U-Name-It club. Luncheon was served at a long table decorated with lighted tapers, mixed flowers and favors in shades of yellow and white. The next meeting will be held April 24 with Mrs. Indorg, 214 Grace street.

* * *

The next regular meeting of the May-B club will be held with Mrs. Hugh Sturgeon, Chilton avenue, May 1 it was announced yesterday following the session held with Mrs. Russell Johns, 187 North Benton street. Bunco was played, and prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Willis and Mrs. Russell Hawk.

* * *

A dinner was served at the Country Kitchen, north of Mansfield, last night to members of the Friendly Eight club. The table was decorated with yellow and white appointments, and two tables of bridge were in play following dinner.

Winners were Miss Opal Lindegger, Mrs. Lester Raby and Mrs. Robert Cook. Secret pals were revealed when gifts were exchanged. Miss Lindegger will entertain the club May 2 at the home of Mrs. A. L. Fisher, 474 West Third street.

* * *

There were 12 members and two guests, Mrs. Anna Wigton, and Mrs. Mary Baird, present at the meeting of the Entre Nous club yesterday with Miss Cora Fisher, North Weldon avenue. Bunco and five hundred were played after the regular meeting, and prizes were won by Mrs. Kate Hannan, Mrs. Mary Hill, and the two guests. Members will be the guests of Mrs. Louise Pollock, East Second street, May 22.

* * *

Mrs Clark Stutz, Arthur avenue, was hostess to the Jolly Times club when hearts were in play yesterday. Miss Helen Long, Mrs. Louis Davidson and Mrs. Dewey Powers were the prize winners. Refreshments were served at small tables decorated with pink and green appointments. Mrs. Barbara Bricker, 44 Remy avenue, will entertain May 1.

* * *

CIRCLE MEETS.

Members of the E. L. K. Sewing circle met at the Women's Club yesterday with Mrs. H. B. Soulen as hostess. Following the 1 o'clock luncheon the members completed 84 pieces. Mrs. Soulen and Mrs. Paul Weir were named to the dental clinic and Mrs. Charles Boals was selected to do case work for the clinic. Mrs. Andrew Theiss will entertain at the Club May 1.

Second Recital Given By Students

The second in a series of three piano recitals was given last night at the Women's Club by the students of Miss Thelma Reed. A group of friends and relatives gathered at the club house to hear a program of student music featuring such composers as Thompson, Lowenstein, Strauss, Beethoven and Dvorak. The final program will be given Friday night at 8 p. m.

Those appearing Wednesday were Ruth Winbigler, Dorothy Broach, Portia Schiller, Robert Gardner, Faye Mott, Frank Wendt, Nancy Wendt, Louise Pitts, Margaret Johnson, Robert Schrack, Ruth Swisher, Damaris Clark, Joanne Fay, Ruth Copeland, Margaret Griffith, Dorothy Ziegler, Marjorie Ziegler and Mary Lou Mahoney.

Church Meetings Provide Interest For Mansfielders

Church activities attracted the interest of a number of Mansfield women yesterday afternoon and evening. Members of the Dorcas Young Women's Missionary society of St. Luke's Lutheran church made plans to have a mother-daughter banquet May 11 at the church during their meeting. Miss Amy Meyers was named chairman.

Dinner was served to the group at the church last night, and Mrs. Lester Dye and Miss Edith Benson were the hostesses.

* * *

Members of the Second district of the First Lutheran church had their regular session at the parish house. Mrs. R. D. Hale, Mrs. D. C. Guthrie and Mrs. Elizabeth Guenther were hostesses to 19 members and one guest. Mrs. E. W. McCready, president, conducted the devotions.

The program opened with group singing after which Mrs. McGuthrie gave an original poem, Mrs. Harry Simmons, accompanied by Mrs. Wade Simmons, sang, and Mrs. Guenther also gave an original reading.

* * *

Members of the St. Agnes guild were the guests of Miss Mary Thompson in the undercroft of the Grace Episcopal church last night. After the regular meeting which was conducted by Miss Lenora Horn, a letter from Rev. M. G. Nicola, former pastor, describing his home and pastorate at Ravenna was read. The remainder of the evening was spent socially, and luncheon was served. Miss Louise Elliott will entertain May 1 at the church.

* * *

The Women's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church was entertained by Mrs. George Riel at the church yesterday with Mrs. E. D. Craig assisting. Mrs. William Shane was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. J. W. Waddell led the devotions.

Mrs. Grace Downs, matron of the Children's Home, spoke on her work at the home. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Fred Proctor in Ausdale May 15. She will be assisted by Mrs. W. W. Crouch.

* * *

There were six members and one guest of the Division A of the First United Brethren church present at the meeting held with Mrs. W. C. Cates, 500 North Townview circle, yesterday. The hostess was in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. P. E. Swihart led the devotions. The next meeting will be held May 22

* * *

Ten members of the Gleaner's class of the United Brethren church met in the church parlors Wednesday evening for a routine meeting. A covered dish dinner was served after which a short business session was held and a social hour enjoyed. The date and place of the next meeting will be announced in the future.

Auxiliary Plays Cards Following Meeting

Following the brief routine business meeting of the Auxiliary No. 100, Sons of Union Veterans at the Memorial building last night members had a benefit bridge party. Mrs. Hazel Brannon was in charge, and an invitation to attend the district meeting at Butler April 21 was accepted.

Bridge was played by members and guests at ten tables. Prizes were presented at each table, and Mrs. Bertha Peifer, Toledo, won the special prize. Luncheon was served. The meeting was in charge of members of the Past Presidents' club with Mrs. A. J. McHugh, Mrs. Catherine Peifer and Mrs. Treva Campbell serving as chairmen. The next meeting will be held May 1.

Entertain Miss Beer at Pre-Nuptial Shower

The Misses Catherine and Eva Hager, 384 McPherson street, entertained last night with a shower honoring Miss Florence Beer, bride-elect of Jacob Urschel. There were 12 present to play hearts and bridge. The awards, which were presented to the bride-elect, were won by the Misses Kathleen Gehl, Martha Pfaff and Mary Thompson.

Luncheon was served buffet style, from a table decorated with green and white appointments. The couple will be married April 26 at 7:30 p. m. in the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church.

* * *

ROUTINE SESSION.

Following the meeting of the sewing circle in the afternoon a 6 p. m. covered-dish dinner was served to members of the Miriam Rebekah lodge in the I. O. O. F. hall. Plans were made for initiation of candidates May 1. The meeting was followed by a demonstration.

* * *

PLAY BRIDGE.

Members of the American Legion Bridge club met at the Home Tuesday where seven tables were in play. Contract awards were won by Mrs. Ralph Schad and Mrs. Earl Ports. The auction winners were Mrs. Herman Wentz and Mrs Christopher Geisel. The next meeting will be April 30 with Mrs. Frank Duff and Mrs. Wentz as hostesses.

Will Reign

Daughter of President and Mrs. Anastario Somoza of Nicaragua, Senorita Lillian Somoza will reign as queen of the 17th Shenandoah Apple Blossom festival at Winchester, Va., May 2 and 3. The 18-year-old brunette beauty is a senior at Gunston Hall, Washington, D. C.

Club Entertains Bride-Elect With Evening Shower

Miss Lena Carcanta, who will become the bride of Richard Strohminger, at St. Peter's Catholic parsonage at 11 a. m. Saturday, was honored last night by members of L'Amici club at the John's park pavilion. There were 25 guests present at the pre-nuptial function which was planned by Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. Anthony Mollica.

A luncheon was served at a long table decorated with pink and white appointments and tiny nut-cups of a nuptial design, and a wedding cake. Mrs. Harold White and Miss Jennie Settembrino served the refreshments.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Joseph Clarosa, Mrs. Conrad Reale, Mrs. Patsy Digregoria, Mrs. Mitchell Marvicsin and Mrs. Henry Chicolani. In addition to a shower of gifts, the bride-elect was presented with a bedspread by the club.

Consumer Purchasing Subject For Program

Mrs. V. S. Mann gave a comprehensive talk on "Consumer's Problems" at a meeting of the Teachers' Wives club which was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. V. C. Ketner, 483 Lexington avenue. Associate hostesses were Mrs. V. D. Coe, Mrs. Robert DeHaven, Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Paul Snyder. Mrs. W. C. Kramer, a former member, was present.

Mrs. Ketner entertained the group with two piano numbers "Valse in E" by Durand and "Murmering Spring" by Sinding.

Thirty-six were served later from an attractively decorated buffet table which was centered with a crystal bowl filled with pink and lavender sweetpeas. On May 15 the club will meet with Mrs. Harry Scoles, Clifton drive for a breakfast party at 9:30 a. m. This will be the annual meeting with a sealed program. Associate hostesses will be Mrs. V. S. Mann, chairman, Mrs. Roy Spetka, Mrs. Earl Heasley, Mrs. W. V. Huber, Mrs. E. W. Kissel and Mrs. L. E. Rahn.

Music, Readings Presented Before Members of Class

The third annual birthday party of the Love and Friendship class of the Mayflower Congregational church was held last night at the church with Mrs. Ralph Bloom, Mrs. Glenn Moore and Miss Imogene Bennett in charge. Dinner was served at 12 tables, each appropriately decorated to represent one month of the year.

Individual favors were presented to the guests. Robert Odson, Sunday school superintendent, was in charge of the program which followed. After the group singing music and readings were featured.

Mrs. Lamarr Davis gave two readings, and Miss Miriam Oswalt gave a vocal number. Mary Margaret Meyers also gave two readings. Four girls, Norma Jean Junt, Eileen Dysart, Marilyn Wentland, and Jean Worley played a selection at one piano. Mary Alice and Donald Goodwin and Jean Prosser gave a trio number.

Eleanor Walters played a violin solo. The Three Majors played a group of accordion numbers, and then were joined by Louise Fish and Genevieve Buzenski for additional music and novelty numbers.

Arrange Last Session For Current Season

Plans for the final meeting of the Prospect Park association were made last night at the covered-dish dinner and card party held in the pavilion. The last dinner meeting of the season will be held May 15 with Mr. and Mrs. Byron Crider, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Garver, Mr. and Mrs. John Klinger, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Devore and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Smith in charge.

Last night arrangements were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Payne, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Doolittle, and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bensinger. A special prize was awarded to Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Schooley.

The bridge winners were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ackerman, and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hunter won the five hundred prize.

Future Events Planned By Pi Alpha Gamma

Plans for assisting with the Ashland college alumni banquet were made by members of Pi Alpha Gamma last night when Miss Margaret Black, Marion avenue, entertained. Miss Mary Stuff was associate hostess. The banquet will be May 2 at the John Simpson Junior high. The group also decided to entertain members of the Ashland chapter at a dessert-bridge party May 25.

Dub bridge was played last night and prizes were won by the Misses Florence Carpenter, Betty Lake and Dorothy Shaffer. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

HAVE SESSION.

Members of the Sarah Peifer auxiliary of the Sons of Union Veterans held their regular meeting in the form of a covered-dish dinner last night at the North Lake park pavilion. Mrs. Frank Newville was obligated, and plans were made for attending the district meeting at Butler on Sunday.

Elect Hedges Officers; Plan Annual Lawn Fete May 24

DENNY SKELTON was elected president of the Hedges Parent Teachers' association at their regular meeting which was held at the building Wednesday evening. Other officers chosen for the coming year were Gene Boling, vice-president; Paul M. Stahl, second vice-president; Miss Helen Bein, secretary, and Mrs. Glenn Pore, treasurer.

During the business session plans were made for the annual lawn fete to be held May 24 at the school grounds, with Glenn Robinson, principal, as general chairman. Also at that time delegates were chosen for the Parent Teacher council They are Walter Wendland, John Lawrence, Mrs. Paul M. Stahl and Miss Emily Palmer. A petition was made for a branch library at the school.

Mrs. T. L. Hockett was chairman of last night's program, which consisted of talks on "Sharing Home Responsibilities" and vocal numbers by Don McLaughlin, tenor, and Robert Early, bass, who were the contest winners in the recent state music festival at Youngstown. They were accompanied by Miss Olive Jean Hughes.

The talks were given by Mrs. Hockett, Mr. Robinson, J. C. Lorentz, and Mrs. D. R. Brown.

Mrs. Hockett favored the group with poems in keeping with the topic, written by Edwar Guest and by her sister, Mrs. George Vawter. Following the entertainment a social hour was held during which time refreshments were served.

INSTANT COLD-WATER SUDS

SAVES STOCKING COLOR!

Women rave how new type suds keeps hosiery colors keener and brighter . . . Not a soap and thus contains no alkali to fade colors. An amazing improvement on even finest soap flakes because it suds perfectly in cold water.

4 VIRTUES OF VEL NOT IN ANY SOAP:
1 INSTANT SUDS IN COLD WATER
2 NO ALKALI TO FADE COLORS
3 NO COTTONY AFTER-LOOK FROM SOAP-SCUM
4 NO ACID OR ALKALI TO IRRITATE HANDS

EVERY woman knows how tough hot water and soap-scum can be on stockings, woolens, and all fine things. But here's thrilling news! Vel . . . the amazing new cold-water suds perfected by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company . . . does away with these enemies of fine fabrics.

Vel is not a soap. It is an entirely different washing principle. Vel is one hundred times as soluble as soap in cold water. Vel contains no acid or alkali to damage and fade colors and Vel leaves no soap-scum to dull colors and make silks cottony-looking. Thus, Vel is ideal for all fine fabrics, because it dissolves instantly in cold water to make mountains of billowy, cleansing suds.

See your stockings keep their delicate sheerness and fresh color amazingly longer when done in Vel's cold suds. See woolens and underwear regain bride-like freshness. Colored prints sing with radiant sparkle. Dishes and glassware glitter with highlights. See for yourself that Vel leaves no ring around the bowl. That shows no ruinous soap-scum can stay in dainty things to cause cottony after-look. So, try Vel . . . the amazing, instant cold-water suds today. Buy Vel today at any grocer's. Made and guaranteed by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet Company.

IN HARD-WATER TOWNS

U. S. Government Survey shows thousands of communities listed as "hard-water" towns. If your water is hard, Vel suds delight you more than ever because

Vel makes hardest water act soft as rainwater

Vel outlasts pure soap 2 to 1 in hardest water

Vel makes as much as 5 times more suds than expensive soap flakes in hardest water

VEL IS A NEUTRAL HYDROPHILIC DETERGENT

Try VEL AND YOU'LL NEVER GO BACK TO SOAP!

STUDENT CLUB HAS ROUTINE SESSION

Discuss Future Programs; Mrs. M. L. Smith Announces Plans for Annual Party; Mrs. Kuntz Has Paper.

A ROUTINE business meeting of the Student club was held last night at the home of Mrs. A. L. Glattke, Ohio State Reformatory. Mrs. M. L. Smith, spring party chairman, announced further plans for the guest event which will be held May 8 at the Susie Janis home. A discussion of next year's program was also held.

Mrs. J. E. Crum gave a report of the nominating committee, and Mrs. J. R. Kohler, 39 Parkway drive, announced that she would entertain the club May 1.

The paper of the evening, "Africa's Place In the Modern World," was presented by Mrs. Charles Kuntz. She particularly emphasized the political and economic significance of the continent.

The house was decorated with various cut flowers, and the table at which Mrs. F. J. Heringhaus presided was centered with a mixed bouquet, and a cake which was in honor of Mrs. Heringhaus' birthday.

Inspired Table Talk

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

DESPITE DEEP snows, storms and the icy blasts of winter's unseemly weather, fresh, green vegetables now turn up at the markets. Let's investigate some of their possibilities.

Is there a more succulent and healthful vegetable than new cabbage? It's delicacy calls for sweet butter and new potatoes in their fashionable brown jackets. Roll the potatoes in a mixture of butter and paprika, skin and all The cabbage blossoms under a sprinkling of fresh black pepper or a scattering of plump blue-black caraway seeds

About those young scallions: They delight the eye and palate in a salad bowl, but have you tried them sliced and creamed with a garnish of paprika to complete a taste delight? Have you had new asparagus? Remember the Dutch custom of serving it with drawn butter, a quarter of hard-boiled egg and a generous sprinkling of fresh ground nutmeg?

Marry nutmeg to asparagus and you'll never forget or regret the happy union

Best Out of Spinach.

The French know how to handle and get the best out of spinach. They steam it after many, many washings. A garlic clove goes in, The cooked spinach is sieved, and The cooke dspinach is sieved, and a little meat stock is added with a bit of cream (evaporated milk, if you wish). Now the whole thing is thickened slightly and some fresh nutmeg is added to taste. It is served as a separate course before the meat with fried croutons (just bits of triangles of bread browned in deep fat, simple and tasty).

Drink your tomatoes in the form of healthful tomato juice. If you want to dress it up, here's how. Use No. 2 can tomato juice and the juice of two lemons, a small onion, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon allspice, one bay loaf, tablespoon horseradish, teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Mix all together Set in refrigerator over night. Strain and serve cold. Makes four servings.

Broiled Deviled Ham with fried apple rings is a tasty dish, just the thing for this season. Ingredients required are. boiled ham slices, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup prepared mustard, six tablespoons soft butter, two teaspoons vinegar and bread crumbs Mix butter and brown sugar. Add the mustard and mix well. Spread a tablespoon of this mixture over each slice of ham. Sprinkle lightly with buttered bread crumbs. Place under medium grill to brown. For the apple rings, slice the apple crosswise in three-eights-inch slices and fry in butter until a delicate golden brown

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"I suppose I ought to explain something first," Miss Carman said slowly, "before you look at these.

My fingers itched to get hold of that old piece of paper with its cryptic markings, but I knew better than to hurry its aged owner, and I spoke with deferential eagerness.

"That would be best, of course" I assented, and Lillian "played up" by leaning forward with her face and eyes alight with interest.

"The explanation I am about to give you," Miss Carman began slowly, "is not a particularly creditable one to my family. Yet, it would have to be given for a number of families of that time, all of good standing in the community, all of whom were banded together in a secret that was never discovered, although there were some suspicions of it at the time

"It is a secret known to few today," Miss Carman went on "Each head of a household at that time passed it on to a direct descendant. But many of the old families have died out and the last descendants destroyed their records, as they were pledged to do when only one of a family was left I shall do so shortly, for I am the last of my race, and my last journey looms near."

She paused and looked out of the window as if she already saw the beginning of the journey.

"We at this end of the island are not far from the big bays that lead out into the ocean. You know how lonely some of those bays are even today, and how lonely so many of the wooded places are here."

I nodded. for she was picturing scenes which to me spell the fascination of the east end of Long Island.

"If they are lonely now," she said, "you can imagine what they must have been 200 years ago, when some of the seafaring men decided to evade what they considered iniquitous taxes upon things they wished to bring back from other lands."

My breath quickened as I realized the implication of what she was telling me, but I did not interrupt her by so much as a syllable.

"You know it is only a few miles from our farm house to the bay, if you go across the fields and through the woods," she said, and waited only for my nod of assent before going on again "I am not betraying any secret when I tell you that there used to be a dozen large old houses along the old road to the bay, most of them set far back in the woods Yours and one other, which I will not name, are the only ones left standing. and there is no one left of the family that built the other house But each of those houses had a secret passage similar to yours"

"The mother house or base of all operations was located near the dunes and was supposed to be used for drying fish caught during the summer," Miss Carman continued "But it had secret rooms, and on dark nights, queer craft used to anchor off in the bay and laden boats used to beach upon the sand so that all sorts of contraband goods could be lugged into the stone house cellars. A secret door and a long underground tunnel led to a lonely egress in another part of the dunes From there carts brought the things brought from the stone house to the various forest hiding places which led, by other secret tunnels, to the houses of the men, a well-organized company who shared in the—smuggling—I suppose one would have to call it"

Miss Carman's voice faltered on the ugly word, and I guessed, that her New England conscience was constantly warring with a certain secret delight in those intriguing sins of her ancestors

"Of all those old houses," she said, "yours is the only one, I am sure, of which the secret has been preserved, or of which there are any maps in existence"

"Then how," I asked. too bewildered to remember that I had promised myself not to interrupt her, "has it been possible for those men to find out the secret of the passage? That is what they must have done."

Don't Let Old Age Creep In

By MME. QUI VIVE.

Let's consider cases. Eleanor married at 25 and now she's 40. She has three spoiled children and she's given up nearly 15 years of her life to them, picking up their clothes, listening to their complaints, enduring noise and all the time engineering the domestic works. She has been too conscientious, hasn't had any fun, which is a mistake. One day she looks in the mirror and finds that instead of looking like 40 she looks like 60

She has taken her duties seriously, hasn't saved herself a step or a worry. If she had been a little selfish her children would be less so and would have had a more companionable mother It is high time for her to say to herself. "Here, you! You've fallen into a ditch and you've got to pull yourself out." Instead of getting new spring duds for the kids, she'll have a few gay frocks for herself and a wild, red hat. She'll trot-trot to the beauty shop and go through the beauty hopper. She'll get a new hairdress, by heck, or know the reason why.

Very good.

The Daddy person will be pleased pink, the children will find the home a pleasanter place. Eleanor has decided not to go to seed.

Jane is a career girl, has been working since she got out of high school, has reached her 40th birthday. She has a good job, works diligently, doesn't mind late hours, is intent on getting ahead She'd never think of grabbing a few extra minutes at lunch time so as to have her hair waved. In fact, her hairdress belongs to several generations back, as coiffures go, but the boss doesn't mind because she's such a tireless worker.

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, April 19.

Unpredictable crises may make this day one of enduring memory, according to the strong position or dramatic and dynamic planetary forces There are likely to be whirlwind adventures of a far-reaching and radical effect on the life and its prospects. Sudden upheavals unforeseen changes in plans and surroundings, as well as associates, are imminent There also may be romantic attachments, possibly unconventional ,irregular or spectacular, such as elopements or sensational divorces Such intrigues may be sinister and regrettable Prudence, restraint and propriety may culminate in happiness and proper dignity.

Those whose birthday it is are on the verge of a spectacular, thrilling and adventurous year, with things of an unpredictable nature causing excitement and bewilderment. Intrigue, confusion, sinister entanglements, scandal and enduring regrets may follow reckless, ill-considered behavior and indiscretion, particularly in the matter of romantic or emotional attachments. With properly regulated behavior, directed into constructive channels, there is gain and satisfaction to be attained

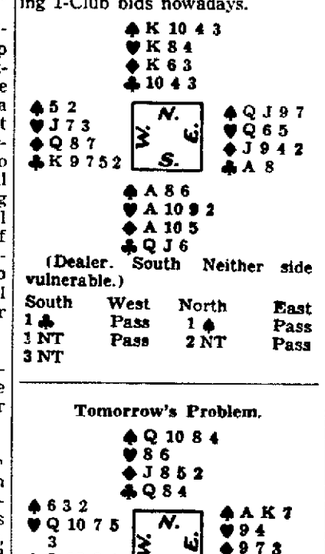
OPPOSING ODD BIDDERS

Ethical opponents will always explain their bidding conventions to you, if they are using conventions which probably you do not understand. It will pay you to listen carefully, for the information passed across the table may be valuable to you either in your own bidding or in the play which develops subsequently. This is particularly of value against players who use various types of opening 1-Club bids nowadays.



(Dealer. South Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
1 NT	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 NT

Two followers of Dr R. H. Ecker, of New York, winner of the national individual masters. championship two years ago, explained to opponents thay were using his club bid for openings. It first denies a five-card major. Second, it commands partner to bid a major in response, regardless of what tops, if it is four cards long. Third, if holding four cards in both majors, partner must bid hearts; failing to bid them shows inability to. If partner bids hearts, original bidder then must bid spades if holding four.

So when North here answered with 1-Spade, he denied having four hearts There was no reason then for South to show his hearts. West should have realized South might have four hearts, but he didn't, and led the 3 of the suit, the Q falling to the A. Declarer could now count four tricks in that suit, two sure in spades, two in diamonds and one in clubs, which he made.

Against avowed bidders of a short-suit club, West would have done well to lead that suit. Had he done so, he would not have built up the winning trick in hearts for the declarer.

Tomorrow's Problem.

FAR EAST NEW FOCAL POINT OF EUROPE'S WAR

Allies Fear Jap Move Against Dutch East Indies; U. S. Sounds Warning.

nese political agents have been active in shaping up an anti-Dutch campaign among East Indian natives.

All strategic harbors of the Dutch East Indies are mined. The East Indies defense force is estimated to have 13 submarines, six destroyers, two cruisers and a strong, American-trained airforce using American-built planes.

The commerce department at Washington estimated that Americans have $70,000,000 invested in the Dutch East Indies and $19,000,000 in the Netherlands.

Hull's statement was composed of four main points:

1. "Any change in the status of the Netherlands Indies would directly affect the interests of many countries."

2. The islands are "an important factor in the commerce of the whole world. . . . "Many countries, including the United States, depend substantially upon them for some of these commodities."

3. Two diplomatic exchanges guarantee the status quo in the Pacific, and one of them specifically guarantees the status quo of the Netherlands Indies.

4. "All peaceful nations have during recent years been earnestly urging that policies of force be abandoned and that peace be maintained on the basis of fundamental principles, among which are respect by every nation for the rights of other nations and non-intervention in their domestic affairs. . . ."

Dutch Stand Firm on Far East Crisis.

THE HAGUE—(AP)—The Netherlands government has informed Japan that it neither will ask any foreign government to protect the Netherlands East Indies in case of war should spread to Holland nor accept an offer of protection if it is made, it was announced today.

Meanwhile the Dutch received with guarded satisfaction the statement by United States Secretary of State Hull, insisting that "the interests of many countries" would be affected by any attempt to intervene in the affairs of the Indies.

There was no official comment on Hull's statement.

Japs Fear Allies Will Make First Move.

TOYKO — (INS) — A Japanese naval spokesman today endorsed the statement of Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita regarding Japan's "special interest" in the Dutch East Indies and expressing hope the status quo of the Dutch possessions would not be altered.

The remarks of the naval spokesman followed the statement by Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington, warning that any intervention in the Dutch East Indies would be prejudicial to the peace of the Pacific area.

The naval spokesman said he feared that the Anglo-French Allies might interfere with the Indies in the event of Holland becoming involved in the European war. Japan would object strongly to extension of the war to the Far East, the spokesman added.

A foreign office spokesman said that the Dutch foreign minister told the Japanese minister to the Hague:

"The Netherlands government has not sought and will not seek in the future the protection of any country for the Dutch East Indies."

Rumania, Russia Set Up Neutral Zone.

BUDAPEST —(INS)— Removing one of the most serious threats to Balkan peace, Russia and Rumania have agreed upon mutual withdrawal of troops ten miles on each side of their common frontier, it was reported in Budapest today.

With the Allies and Germany struggling to spread their influence over the Balkans, it was believed in well informed quarters that the Russo-Rumanian agreement had resulted from French initiative.

Adrien Theierry, French minister teo Bucharest, was said to have mediated between the two powers.

Earlier Yugoslavia arranged for probable recognition of Russia by agreeing to conclude a Belgrade-Moscow trade pact.

'It's Not War,' Italian Diplomat Says.

LONDON —(AP)— An Italian diplomat, commenting on recent signs of growing hostility in Italy toward the British-French Allies, has told a leader of London's large Italian colony: "Don't worry —it's not war."

Other diplomatic quarters in London expressed the conclusion that the show of Italian hostility was linked with Germany's drive to the north and voiced belief that Italy would stop "just short of war."

Informed sources, studying the tone of the Italian press, theorized that Premier Mussolini had agreed at his recent meeting with Adolf Hitler in the Brenner pass to begin a saber-rattling campaign in the Mediterranean when the Nazis moved into Scandinavia.

Doubt as to Italy's intentions, it pointed out, would cause France to maintain strong forces on the Italian frontier and reduce the number of allied troops available for duty in Norway. It also would prevent Britain from reinforcing her naval forces off Norway with units from the Mediterranean.

RECALLED TO COLORS

ROME—(INS)—Several thousand previously exempted members of four Italian military classes have been called to the colors after being re-examined and found fit for service, an official communique stated today.

The announcement denied rumors that four new classes had been called up and also denied that the Adriatic port of Bari had been declared a military zone.

Mansfield STOP-and-GO can be cut 35%!
Join the SHARE-THE-ROAD Club today!

Get this New SHARE-THE-ROAD EMBLEM that Works DAY and NIGHT

35% of today's Stop-and-Go driving — the costliest kind there is — can be wiped out!

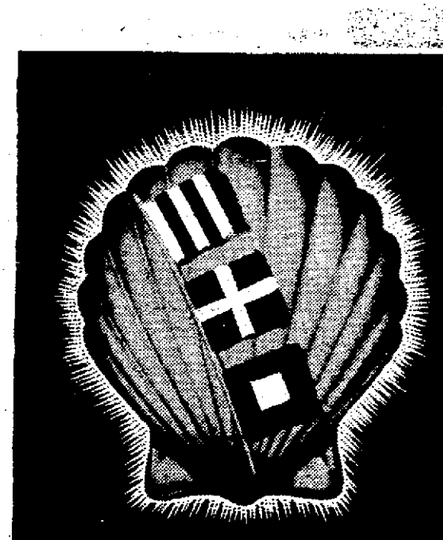
That's the news coming from Shell research, which produced new Super-Shell and new Shell Premium—the gasolines that have the highest Road Performance Rating (R. P. R.) in Shell history!

R. P. R. is the true measure of a gasoline's performance in your car. "Highest R. P. R." means faster starting, faster pick-up, higher anti-knock, more power and "go" in all gears, in all speeds. It results from Shell's "balancing" process. No single performance quality is emphasized at the expense of others — no "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

With new Super-Shell or new Shell Premium in your fuel tank, and a Share-the-Road emblem on your car, you're doing something about Stop-and-Go.

The Share-the-Road Club—a nation-wide force of more than 5,000,000 motorists—is public opinion at work against "Screwdrivers" and those heedless pedestrians, "Screwjays." It's crusading for decent driving—careful walking—for safety . . . Join today at your Shell Dealer's and receive your new 1940 day and night emblem FREE.



FREE at SHELL DEALERS

The new 1940 Share-the-Road emblem shines day and night. Warns "Screwdrivers" and "Screwjays." Gives your car protection. Drive into your Shell Dealer's today—enroll as a Share-the-Road Club member—and he'll put one on your car FREE.

SLOW-MOTION "SCREWDRIVERS"—They always have to wake him up when the light turns green, so by the time he gets going, the drivers behind are caught behind another "red"... Remember, your engine uses 3 times as much gasoline in low and second gears as in high—when a "Screwdriver" or "Screwjay" brings you to a needless stop, you pay.

LITERARY "SCREWJAY"—He's a dream walking. Why should little things like cars and lights interrupt his study of world conditions?..."Screwjays"—heedless, reckless pedestrians—cause 10% of all Stop-and-Go driving, to say nothing of needless accidents.

"And here are the two new gasolines that save even more on STOP-and-GO"

QUICK FACTS ON NEW SUPER-SHELL
- New savings on Stop-and-Go
- More for your money in anti-knock
- The fastest-starting regular gasoline we've ever made—new surging power in every gear
- Costs more to make—but no more to buy

QUICK FACTS ON NEW SHELL PREMIUM
- Extra high anti-knock
- Extra quick-starting
- Extra power
- The finest gasoline ever to bear the Shell name
- Increased in every gasoline value—at no increase in price

To get full advantage of the High R. P. R. of these new BALANCED motor fuels... Do not dilute them with ordinary gasolines

Roosevelt Asks Change In Work Relief Budget Plan

WOULD PERMIT SPENDING ALL IN 8 MONTHS

Plan Delays Until Next Winter Decision on Question of Exceeding Budget.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt asked congress today to appropriate $975,000,000 for relief in the 1941 fiscal year with the understanding that the entire sum could be spent in the first eight months of the year.

Mr. Roosevelt's plan would permit the entire fund, if necessary, to be spent by WPA between July 1, 1940, and March 1, 1941. This would hold the immediate appropriation within the present budget limit, and would delay until next year a decision whether the budget has to be exceeded.

WPA this fiscal year is spending $1,500,000,000. The $975,000,000, if spent in eight months would provide about the same monthly amount for WPA.

Expressing the hope that employment conditions in the next fiscal year will be at least as good as during the present year, Mr. Roosevelt said that in the event his hopes fail of materialization, congress next winter can provide a deficiency appropriation.

Sends Letter.

His proposal was sent to congress in the form of a letter to Speaker William B. Bankhead of the house. Mr. Roosevelt, discussing the recommendations during a press conference, said the letter will be referred to the appropriations subcommittee which now is drafting a new relief bill.

Mr. Roosevelt stood firm on the estimate he sent congress in his budget message last January requesting approximately $975,000,000 but shortened the minimum period of expenditure by one-third of a year.

Explaining the recommendation, he insisted that modification of the present so-called Woodrum clause, requiring the appropriation to be stretched over 12 months, would not necessarily mean that the full appropriation would be expended during the first eight months of the fiscal year.

Discussing the effect of heavy appropriations on the $45,000,000,000 national debt limit which federal obligations now are approaching, Mr. Roosevelt expressed hope that tax receipts might be slightly higher during the next fiscal year and congressional appropriations somewhat lower than his budget, so as to keep within the debt limit.

He admitted wryly that there is virtually no chance of congress enacting the $460,000,000 in new taxes which he proposed in his Jan. 3 budget message. But there is a chance, he said, that appropriations will be $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 below his budget, and that tax receipts will be up $200,000,000 or $300,000,000 from the 1940 fiscal year totals.

If both those possibilties are realized, he said, there would be no violation of the statutory debt limit even though congress fails to provide the $460,000,000 in new taxes.

CIVIC CRISIS

Officials Warn Columbus City Government Nearly Broke.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Mayor Floyd F. Green and council President Roger N. Addison declared today that the city government would cease functioning July 1 if the citizens did not vote additional revenue June 18.

Meanwhile, the council asked the mayor to cut his 1940 budget in half to make it conform with anticipated income. The city is facing a deficit estimated at $2,238,700.

7 CASES READY FOR GRAND JURY

Holdup Suspects Head Light Docket Awaiting Inquiry at Tuesday Session.

When the April term grand jury convenes Tuesday it probably will have only seven cases scheduled, the lightest docket in months.

Heading the list will be cases involving Vincent A. Carbeau, William Justine, and Rocco Cusato, held on armed robbery charges in connection with the robbery of Philip Schmutzler, restaurant operator, last Friday on North Main street.

Also scheduled for investigation by the jurors is a charge of involuntary manslaughter against Harold Rolf, Cleveland, driver of one of the cars which figured in a traffic accident in which a Middletown man was fatally injured near Lexington.

Only other cases on the docket so far involve Henry Harry, accused of cutting with intent to wound; Edward Corson, charged with grand larceny, and Betty Bland, accused of carrying concealed weapons.

Students Choose Patty Oberlander As Relays 'Queen'

By vote of the student body at Senior high school, Patty Oberlander was elected queen of the 1940 Mansfield Relays, to be run April 27 at Stadium field.

Also elected were five attendants.

They are Marjorie Boals, Ruth Hudson, Mariam Reese, Joan Watson and Frances Brown.

The queen and her attendants will occupy a place of honor at the Relays, and will present individual and team trophies to the winners in the various events.

Last year, Miss Oberlander was an attendant. Patricia Palmer was the 1939 queen.

PAPERS NEEDED

CCC Enrollees Must Present Discharge Papers Tomorrow.

Richland county CCC enrollees who will leave tomorrow for camp and have had previous service in camps should bring their discharge papers to the Mansfield Armory at 8 a. m. Friday, Mrs. Agatha Leonard, deputy county selecting officer, advised today.

Twenty-three youths have enrolled for CCC service, filling the county quota for April, Mrs. Leonard said. They will leave Mansfield Friday for a short period of training in other sections of the state before entering camps in the west, she added.

DIES SAYS "TROJAN HORSE" SITUATION EXISTS IN U. S.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — Chairman Martin Dies, (D. Tex.), said today that his committee on un-American activities soon will disclose "Trojan Horse" undercover plotting by alien agents in this country "worse than" the Nazi infiltration which helped German troops in Norway.

He said that approximately 100 witnesses, including Nazis, Fascists and Communists, are now under subpenas, and that hearings will be started as soon as the evidence can be organized.

"We are going to show that in the United States we have a 'Trojan Horse' situation worse than Norway with respect to having agents of foreign powers located in key positions," he said.

"They are in the communications, transport, utilities, airplane factories, maritime industry, steel, navy yards, and in labor unions. This whole thing is part of a well thought out plan for espionage, sabotage and diversion of the United States in the western hemisphere.

"What they did to Norway, they are ready to do in the United States, and this is going to become very evident in the next 12 months.

TAFT STAYS OUT

Turns Down Dewey Challenge In Maryland Primary.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Taft of Ohio announced today he would not contest with Thomas E. Dewey for Maryland's vote in the Republican presidential nominating convention.

Saying that he presumed Dewey failed to enter other state Republican primaries because the New Yorker found that their Republican organizations were opposed to him, Taft said:

"I shall stay out of Maryland for the same reason."

Taft, torn between conflicting advice of his campaign managers and friends, had promised to decide during the day whether to accept the New York prosecutor's challenge to enter the Maryland presidential primary May 6.

Conference Arranged Over Canadian Dispute.

TORONTO—(AP)—Hope for immediate settlement of a Canadian seamen's strike over wages and a closed shop on the Great Lakes rested today on a series of conferences arranged by M. S. Campbell, chief conciliation officer of the Dominion government.

Campbell and J. A. Sullivan, president of the Canadian seamen's union, conferred today, and Campbell said he would meet steamship company officials during the day.

"Forty-eight thousand members of the Canadian seamen's union have decided that no vessel will leave port unless it is manned by a union crew," Sullivan said.

HOLD FORTRESS AGAINST HEAVY HOPELESS ODDS

Men of Fossum Resist Nazi Advance in Center of Treason Area.

(By International News Service)

ON THE SWEDISH-NORWEGIAN FRONTIER—Hemmed in on all sides and vastly outnumbered, a hardy little band of Norwegian soldiers is holding out in the fortress of Fossum against tremendous odds, it was learned today.

Refugees crossing the border from Norway told the story for the first time, comparing the resistance of Fossum to that of the Alcazar in Spain and of the Island of Mantsi in Finland's Lake Ladoga.

The men of Fossum are resisting without command. Virtually all of the Norwegian military officials in Oestvold province, where Fossum stands, were disarmed and sent across the border into Sweden for internment.

The full story of Fossum is not yet known and may not be for some time.

Well Equipped.

What is known, however, is that the fortress, probably equipped with the magnificent Bofors guns which Sweden manufactures, lies in the direct center of the southeastern Norwegian province over which the Germans swarmed when treason in high places and the activities of Adolf Hitler's "Fifth Column" made the invasion possible.

From Halden south to Kongsvinger the Germans swept with but little resistance. Kongsvinger, far more heavily fortified than Fossum, gave way even before the invaders arrived. The city had surrendered and had been evacuated before a shot was fired.

General Erichsen, commander-in-chief of the Oestvold garrison, capitulated and crossed the border together with members of his general staff. He apparently considered resistance in this area hopeless.

But the men who manned Fossum believed otherwise.

Lines Split.

So far as can be learned, the Germans thus have had to carry out their occupation of Oestvold under handicaps, splitting their lines in such a manner as to avoid the spitting guns of Fossum.

To the north, east, south and west the defenders of Fossum are maintaining an almost continuous fire, preserving the fort and its surrounding territory as a virtual oasis of Norwegian loyalty in the midst of invasion.

"I know the men of Fossum and I know the strength of that fort," one Norwegian army officer said on his arrival at the border.

"I think they can stave off the Germans indefinitely."

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Edmund H. Kerns of Urbana charges today in a suit filed here that he was removed as superintendent of highway maintenance in Champaign county for "political reasons." He asks that the state highway department return his position which he says has not been abolished as he was told.

Urges Conference Way Of Solving Family Problems

Urging parents to adopt the "family conference" plan for settling controversies in the home, Dr. Garry C. Myers, noted child psychologist, told an audience at John Simpson junior high school that "it never does any harm for parents to admit they are wrong occasionally."

Dr. Myers' lecture was sponsored by the Mansfield P.T.A. council. His column on child psychology appears in The News-Journal.

"When arguments start about what program the family is going to listen to on the radio or who is going to use the car or bicycle, it is always better to get together in a conference and work the thing out with reason," Dr. Myers asserted.

In the treatment of children with speech impediments, parents should do everything possible to make the child feel at ease, keep the surroundings quiet, and help to build up the child's physical condition, he said.

He asserted that it is "unfair to compare one child with another on the basis of their report cards, since a number of things might influence a child's ability to make good grades at school."

About 200 persons attended the lecture. Dr. Myers was introduced by G. W. Harmony, principal of Bowman school.

German 'Trojan Horse' Tactics Frighten All Europe

PRECAUTIONS SET AGAINST INFILTRATION

Dread Gestapo Agent Seen In Every Tourist Traveling Neutral Countries.

By DAN CAMPBELL
(UP Staff Correspondent)

LONDON — All Europe from London and Stockholm to Bucharest and Istanbul took emergency precautions today against "Trojan Horse" activities by enemy or potential-enemy agents.

A Europe-wide scare was due to the tactics of Germany in its invasion of Norway, of filtering men into the country in advance. It was realized with startling clarity that such tactics had been used as a matter of routine technique in Austria and Czechoslovakia as well as in Norway and Denmark.

Britain's Scotland Yard, it was learned, has reached into the drawing rooms of smart Mayfair for society women to act as counter-espionage operatives against women agents of the German Gestapo (secret police) who are believed certain to be posing as refugees and circulating in west end society.

Within the last 24 hours Britain, Sweden, Switzerland, Jugoslavakia, Rumania, and Turkey had taken special precautions against "Tropan Horse" agents.

Alarm Shown.

Hungary and Bulgaria showed alarm at the arrival of strong groups of German "tourists," all young men of military bearing.

French newspapers began demanding that the government take additional precautions, particularly against men formerly affiliated with the now outlawed Communist party.

"Trojan Horse" activity was made acutely dangerous because of the scorcs of thousands of refugees in all European countries from Austria, Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Britain awakened only recently to the refugee situation. It had interned only 563 aliens and put restrictions on the movements of another 7,000. Now, under the direction of Scotland Yard, 12 regional tribunals are to hear cases of 26,000 aliens, "cranks," German "students," pacifists, stop-the-war groups and known Communists and Fascists. Police suspect that funds of some stop-the-war groups may be traced back to Berlin or Moscow.

Severe Control.

Sweden announced severe control of movement of all foreigners. Foreigners owning motor cars were forbidden to drive outside their towns of residence; foreigners were forbidden to enter factories, storage houses or simiiar buildings unless employed there; foreigners were forbidden to enter railroad stations or docks unless to start a journey.

Foreigners will be compelled to quit jobs at harbors and will be forbidden to photograph railroads, harbors, bridges, factories and power plants.

The Swiss government gave police secret instructions which, it was understood, were designed to restrict activities by foreigners.

Expel Undesirables.

The Jugoslav government prepared to investigate all foreigners throughout the country and to expel those held undesirable. Special precautions were ordered in German minority areas.

The Rumanian cabinet decided to impose strict control of foreigners already in the country and those who might seek to enter.

It was understood that the Turkish government planned to tighten control of foreigners and to expel "undesirables." Two Germans were expelled from the country yesterday.

A United Press Budapest dispatch, describing activities in the Balkan and Danubian countries, reported that there were as many as 40,000 Germans in Rumania whose status was regarded as doubtful.

Sofia reported, the dispatch said, that within 24 hours numerous German "tourists, newspaper men and artists" had arrived in Bulgaria. Previously, it was said there were between 5,000 and 6,000 Germans "vacationing" in Bulgaria, of whom about 4,000 were in Sofia.

In Budapest, the dispatch said, it was reported that between 400 and 500 Germans had arrived to increase the German colony and that as many as 350 of them might be Gestapo agents.

H. W. LONG DIES

LOUDONVILLE — Harvey W. Long, 63, retired shoe dealer, died yesterday afternoon at his home here. He was born in this community and had spent his entire life here.

Surviving him are his wife, Alice; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Artz and Mrs. Grace Brown, and a brother, Walter Long, all of Loudonville.

Funeral service will be held at 10:30 a. m. Saturday at the Gilbert funeral home, with Rev. J. H. Kuhlman, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, officiating. Burial will be made in the Loudonville cemetery.

Portsmouth Flood Wall to be Started Soon

Up and Down THE STREET

A certain Mansfield men's clothing store manager received somewhat of a shock when a middle-aged customer entered his store recently. The prospective buyer was carrying a package when the manager approached him. Asked if he wished to purchase, the man unwrapped his parcel and asked: "Would you have a pair of trousers to match this coat? I bought this suit when I got married 28 years ago and since the coat is still good I thought you might have some trousers to match." The manager, however, didn't have any.

There's one place in the Mansfield district where the American flag is flown every day of the year—it's the municipal airport. Acting on a suggestion from Earl L. Johnson, state director of aeronautics, employes at the field daily hoist and lower the the flag, Johnson's contention being that even on the dreariest of days, the flag floating from the giant pole gives the place some semblance of life.

Mansfielders who make the Smokey Mountain trip this summer, going from Knoxville to Asheville by way of Route 129 through North Carolina, are quite likely to "meet up" with two former Mansfield residents. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Tedrick who left here last fall, have taken over the management of the Joyce Kilmer Inn at Robbinsville, N. C., which is on the edge of the Joyce Kilmer Memorial forest. The Inn, one of the attractive ones of the mountain country, is 85 miles south of Knoxville and 105 miles southwest of Asheville. The Tedricks' permanent address will be the Inn at Robbinsville, N. C.

The traditional "fox and hounds" was upset yesterday at Johnny Appleseed Junior high assembly. The school band planned to play "The Fox Chase" at morning assembly and then to have two dogs, one wearing the head of a fox, race across the stage, the "hound" pursuing the "fox." But something went wrong and at the psychological moment the plans went awry. Instead of the hound chasing the "fox," the "fox" chased the hound off the stage.

ENGINEERS SAY PROJECT DELAY RUMORS UNTRUE

Plan Spending Million Yearly Until Ohio River Wall Is Finally Completed.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON — Construction of the first unit of Portsmouth's (Ohio) flood wall will be started shortly by war department engineers under a program reported today.

Plans for the unit have been approved and returned to the Cincinnati field office for minor modifications which will enable the engineers to advertise for construction contracts.

Engineers predicted contracts could be awarded within two weeks—a month at the most.

Funds for initial construction already are available from a 780,0000 allotment from the flood control appropriation for fiscal 1949.

Engineers said at least $1,000,000 additional would be available out of the appropriation for fiscal 1941. This allotment was figured on the basis of a total appropriation of $70,000,000 for general flood control, the amount recommended by President Roosevelt and approved by the house when it passed the war department civil functions bill.

Engineers said there was no basis for suggestions that the wall would not be started this year. Part of the current allotment of $780,000 has been used in developing plans but engineers said they had on hand $400,000 to begin work.

They added it was probable that at least $1,000,000 a year would be alloted for the Portsmouth project until it was completed at a total cost of approximately $5,500,000. On this basis, the development would be finished in five years.

The Portsmouth development will be an extension of a river wall built by the city prior to the 1913 flood.

GET RELIEF AID

County, Subdivisions Receive $5,425 to Apply on Bills.

Mansfield and Richland county received a total of $5,425 in state relief money today to apply on their March relief bills which amounted to $9,408. Shelby got $471.

The state's contribution to the relief fund in all of the counties amounted to $1,000,000, or 42.3 per cent of the total. It was the maximum allocation permitted under the Ohio relief law. Counties and cities must pay the remaining 57.7 per cent from local funds.

While Mansfield's relief costs were up slightly last month, the bill in Ohio was down $152,000 from March, William H. Hartsough, state relief consultant, said. Two relief units—Grandview (Columbus) and Oakwood (Dayton)—reported no expenditures in March.

DENT ADDRESSES MEETING OF JAC

Recreation Chairman Tells of Problems Faced By Board.

Floyd Dent, area scout executive and chairman of the city recreation board, last night outlined the struggles encountered in seeking an adequate recreational program for the city in a talk before the Junior Association of Commerce in the JAC club rooms on North Main street.

Also included in Dent's talk was a brief survey of the city's traffic problem and local boy scout work. The speaker showed ceveral films of scout hunting trips to Canada.

Harry Hollingsworth, recently elected president, introduced the speaker and presided during the business meeting.

SPEAKS FRIDAY

California Evangelist To Appear At Foursquare Church.

William F. Rugg, California evangelist, will speak at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Foursquare church, 168 South Adams street during the regular mid-week service.

Rugg will speak on the subject, "After Me, You Are First." He was a former police officer in California, and served under the late President Wilson in the diplomatic and consular corps in South America.

SERVES AS CONSULTANT

A story in The News-Journal yesterday stated that Frank B. Mahoney, formerly of the Humphryes Manufacturing company of Mansfield, was an executive of the Ellwood Company, of Ellwood City, Pa. This was in error. Mr. Mahoney is serving the Ellwood company as a consultant in a temporary arrangement.

FUND SHORTAGE MAKES SCANDAL

Four Maine State Officials Resign; Another Under Governor's Fire.

AUGUSTA, Me.—(U.P.)—The discovery of a $37,000 shortage in state funds resulted today in the resignations of four state fiscal authorities and a request by Gov. Lewis O. Barrows for the resignation of a fifth.

Financial Commissioner William S. Owens, 74, was the fourth to quit, and in announcing his resignation, Gov. Barrows said he had asked State Treasurer Belmont Smith, 65, to resign but that Smith had refused.

Resignations already had been turned in by:

Comptroller William R. Runnells, 45, who was found with two bullet wounds in his chest at his home April 1 while auditors were going over his accounts. He said he had shot himself accidentally. Police found $25,000 in his brief case, more in safety deposit boxes, charged him with embezzlement and put him under guard in a hospital.

Louis H. Winship, deputy state treasurer.

Elbert D. Hayford, state auditor.

The governor said he had asked for Smith's resignation because of inefficiency.

DIES AT AGE 92

Mrs. VanGilder Succumbs at Daughter's Home in Mifflin.

MIFFLIN — Mrs. Margaret Rosine Van Gilder, 92, one of Ashland county's oldest residents, died early today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nettie Echelberger in Mifflin.

She was born in Wayne county 70 years ago where she had resided since. She was the daughter of the late John and Sara Robertson Latimer.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Echelberger, three grandchildren, eight great grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church in Widowville, Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. F. L. Mitzel of Hayesville will be in charge. Burial will be in the Hayesville cemetery.

FUNERAL TODAY

Infant Son of Weller Township Couple Buried In Mansfield.

Funeral services for Howard E. Bond, six-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bond of Weller township, who died Wednesday at the home, were to be held at 4 p. m. today at the Wappner funeral home in charge of Rev. H. L. Gilbert of St. Paul's Lutheran church, with burial in Mansfield cemetery.

SCOUT BANQUET TICKETS ON SALE

500 Distributed for Annual Father and Son Event.

Tickets for the annual father and scout dinner to be held April 25 in the Westinghouse cafeteria were placed on sale today by Mansfield scoutmasters.

There will be 500 tickets for the dinner and after these are gone it will be impossible to accommodate others, according to Floyd Dent, area scout executive.

A program for the dinner is being planned by a committee headed by C. G. Hiller, general chairman.

FORMING BAND

Volunteers of America Head Seeks Prospective Members

Plans for organizing of a Mansfield community band were announced today by Ralph T. White of the Volunteers of America.

Anyone who plays an instrument is invited to join the organization, White said, and he asks those interested to contact him at the Volunteers of America.

INFANT BURIED TODAY

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnston of 54½ Altamont avenue, died at birth at General hospital Wednesday. The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where services were held at 3:30 p. m. today with Rev. R. L. Foulke of the Central Methodist church officiating. Burial was made in Mansfield cemetery.

BURTON ASSERTS HE WON'T BE SCHORR SENATOR IF ELECTED

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND — Mayor Harold H. Burton says an attempt by Ed Schorr, state Republican chairman, "to dictate the party's candidate for United States senator is an argument why I should be nominated."

Speaking in Ashtabula last night, Mayor Burton added to his platform the plank: "Return of the party from the attempted dictatorshop of a misguided state chairman." Burton added that he proposed "to be a senator of the United States, not the senator of Ed Schorr."

Referring to Schorr's recent personal indorsement of Rep. Dudley A. White of Norwalk as the party organization's senatorial choice, Burton asked that the chairman be repudiated "for going against the decision of the state executive committee not to take sides in the primary."

Schorr criticized Burton in a talk at Cincinnati Monday, asserting he was "not a good organization Republican" and that he "wilfully and purposely misrepresented the recent Cleveland relief situation."

"Nobody ever promotes a relief crisis," Burton said in his Ashtabula address. "The last thing a mayor would do, for the sake of his city, would be to exaggerate a situation of this character."

Harold G. Mosier, of Cleveland, former congressman-at-large, wrote the 88 Ohio Democratic county chairmen that he would "continue to support the policies of President Roosevelt." Mosier is a candidate for governor.

In an address before the Canton Federation of Labor, Edward Lamb of Toledo attacked "anti-labor" administration of state unemployment compensation. Lamb, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general, said "laboring men are losing millions of dollars each year."

WIDOW, 89, DIES

Mrs. Jennie Ford Was Native of Ashland County.

ASHLAND—Mrs. Jennie Ford, 89, a native of Ashland county, died here Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anna Myers with whom she made her home.

Born Sept. 18, 1850 near Savannah, Mrs. Ford spent her entire life in Ashland county and for a number of years lived near Adario. She was a member of the Adario Methodist church. There are no survivors.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Adario Methodist church with Rev. F. M. Dickey officiating. Burial will be in Adario cemetery.

The Voice of BROADWAY

—By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Speaking for Myself.

Broadway's current glamor boy, in my book, is not Desi Arnaz, Maurice Evans, or Franchot Tone, but that new, sleek, comehither brunette dream prince of "Higher and Higher"—Sharkey the Seal. The other boys san sing and act of course, but can they act with flippers? . . . I've been to dozens of fires, but I've never met Mayor LaGuardia inside the fire lines: I guess he always goes to the ones I miss. . . .

I hear from a European source that real fighting will break out on the Siegfried line around April 25, with the French and English attacking. More Allied troops are scheduled for duty at the Western front after April 22 than have been on the front line since the second World war started.

The idea of being interrogated by the census-taker doesn't make me mad, but it bores me stiff. . . . I can think of three people, offhand, whose professional personality is a carbon copy of their behind-the-scenes personality: Robert Benchley, Jimmy Durante, and Jessica Dragonette. Those who aren't anything like the characters the public sees: Bing Crosby, Bert Lahr, Danielle Darrieux.

* * *

I wonder if circus elephants ever get tired working for peanuts. . . . I can't believe that any girl who smokes a cigar in public does it because she really likes cigars. I think she must like being looked at—in astonishment. . . . Those heralded exhibitions of singing, dancing and fighting by usually prim celluloid actresses are always overrated in the advance reports, but still I can't wait to see Miriam Hopkins do the can-can in "Virginia City."

If men can wear those Easter egg-colored ties, I don't see why the current chapeaux should rate such superior masculine snickers.

Best looking costume of the season is the pleated negligee Ethel Merman wears in the boudoir scene of "DuBarry." Practically every gal whose seen the show yearns audibly for a copy.

* * *

Kay Francis never looked better in her life than she does in some of the closeups in "It's a Date." She's as cute as Deanna Durbin. . . . I'll admit basketball is the fastest game I've ever watched, but I get restless looking at it for more than ten minutes. . . . I wonder who invented the walk mannequins use at fashion shows. I never saw any real life belle who toddled in that manner.

Those new Checker cabs with the sliding backs are driving the cabbies crazy, my most voluble hack-driving friend informs me.

It seems every passenger wants to try the new open back and asks the driver to operate it—but the weather is too cold for that airy riding, so the back has to be closed again. It takes about 77 cranks of a handle to operate the opening—so drivers' arms are sore, and so are the drivers.

* * *

Manhattan bootblacks are very special and wonderful. One at 42nd street includes in his equipment a silver-mounted whisk broom: the dusky lad at 50th between Sixth and Seventh avenues chants to prospective customers: "Dig in 'gate, get your shoes straight." . . .

Candidates for a Utopian stag line: Laurence Olivier, Charles Boyer, Douglas Fairbanks, jr., Jimmy Stewart, and Walter Pidgeon. . .

I think cider is more picturesque than palatable.

Funny how writers get a penchant for one word, and repeat it unconsciously. Mollie Anter-Downes, the English writer, had a flair once for the word "translucent." She used it on almost every page in one of her novels of more than a decade ago. . . . I can't imagine why the government still makes two dollar bills.

* * *

I think Maurice Evans has more autograph fans than any star currently on Broadway—which certainly indicates a larger following for the Bard than you might be inclined to expect. . . . I never have nerve enough to ask a woman in a gigantic hat to take it off in the movies. . . . "Information Please" is still the only quiz program I can listen to all the way through and really have a good time.

I love those provocative conversation snatches you hear going by on street corners. Yesterday I heard a girl ask her companion: "Joe, what is a hangover?" Couldn't catch Joe's answer. . . .

Odd how the gambling instinct works in people. I can't be dragged to a bridge table, but I'm a soft touch for a slot machine. . . . I love the city at the hour when the workers are hurrying home, and the horns of the taxis are noisy on Park avenue, and the RCA building glows in the midtown dusk.

* * *

I think it's chic of the Cafe Louis XIV to have a headwaiter named Louis. No relation, though.

I consider a sailing yacht is one of the most beautiful sights in the world. . . . Overheard Michael Whalen make the tactless remark of the week at the bar of the Kit Kat the other night. Said he, while a dozen or so Manhattanites lifted their ears: "I still hate New York." Well, maybe plenty of New Yorkers have said that about Hollywood—only not so loud.

I wonder if movie ushers ever get to see a picture all the way through—and how they must suffer at some of those celluloid jobs!

* * *

If I were a theatrical good fairy I would give John Beal a part in a fine play that would run more than a week. I never saw a good actor with worse luck in shows. . . . I wonder if Arthur Treacher's butler looks like Arthur Treacher.

I wish Leslie Howard would come back to Broadway and walk around a stage a few times, just to show the other boys how.

The lobster soup at Colbert's must be what they give you for lunch when you get to heaven. . . .

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Year in, year out, the girls (and boys, too) come to Hollywood looking for a break. There have been sermons preached about it, official stay-homes promulgated and movies made, the latest being "Star-Dust."

Ellen Drew was one of those girls. She didn't believe in signs or warnings. She came, and she's doing all right. But she knows better now. If she had known the figures and the odds against her, maybe she wouldn't have come.

Ellen can tell anyone who asks that the chances against success for an unknown girl in pictures are about 30,000 to one. She can say it with as much zeal as the pamphleteers who urge girls to stay home. She'll go even further in discouragement: "After you get a contract, the odds against you are still about 1,000 to one. Ever notice how many young girls the studios sign up never get anywhere?"

Well, did you? Stay around here a year, and you see them climbing laboriously up to the pinnacle of a contract—only to slide off like greased eels at the first or second option time. A thousand-to-one shot is conservative.

* * *

Ellen Drew used to make $10 a week in a Chicago store. She saved a dollar a week for a Hollywood fund. She spent some of her savings for an evening gown and a bathing suit—the necessary habiliments to enter a beauty contest in Evanston. She won, promoted a ride to California with friends and found herself at Hollywood's gates—holding a job in a candy store near Grauman's Chinese theater.

She had a lot of phony offers from phony agents who said she "ought to be in pictures," but Ellen was smart. She always investigated first. When she met a real agent, she went along to the studio and (surprise, surprise!) she got a contract. Unlike most of the stock girls, Ellen went places—mainly because Wesley Ruggles picked her as a "typical working girl" for Bing Crosby's "Sing, You Sinners." She has done well since—leading lady stuff. For "French Without Tears" she got her first trip to England, something she never had dreamed could happen. She has a bigger chance now in "Buck Benny Rides Again."

But don't let it fool you, girls. Ellen Drew is still one in 30,000—and even she is still this side of real stardom.

STREET WEAR GREATER THAN BUILDING PACE

City's Pavement Problem at Acute Stage; Hebel Urges Maintenance Program.

Except for a few miles of new construction made possible the past four years, Mansfield's streets are admittedly in the worse shape in recent years.

Why must local drivers continue to risk headaches and broken axles and visitors receive a poor impression of the city? What can be done to remedy the situation?

These questions were asked yesterday of Street Superintendent Charles Hebel, whose department is responsible for street maintenance, and such reconstructions as is done to improve driving conditions in the city.

Hebel's answer was that Mansfield streets are wearing out faster than they are being rebuilt. Today's acute problem is a cumulative result of insufficient attention to replacements during many years prior to large resurfacing and reconstruction. It was pointed out that there are approximately 70 miles of city paving.

Proper maintenance is important in prolonging the life of good paving, Hebel said. Prompt snow removal, to minimize winter freezing and damage, and thorough patching of broken surfaces form the only relief the city can give until financing of new streets becomes possible.

Critics of the Mansfield street situation contend faster snow removal last winter would have reduced the drop of potholes which have engaged asphalt repair crews the past several weeks. The work will not be finished for another six weeks due to the inclement weather which has retarded patching and is costing in excess of $10,000. The spring repair program is one of the biggest in the city's history.

Blaming a combination of the worst winter in years and the increasing percentage of worn out streets, Hebel gloomily forecast that with similar winter conditions next winter the repair jobs will be even greater.

It was pointed out that little in the way of street construction will be carried on this year by the city since practically all funds have been earmarked for the West Fourth street improvement, which is already under way.

It was also estimated that to eliminate worn-out streets and those on which suraces have caused most of the maintenance trouble would require an untold total of new miles of paving.

Such a program would cost the city upwards to a million dollars, in that new bases would be required in a greater portion of the streets, and expensive sewer construction would be necessary.

At the present the city has only $15,000, from gasoline taxes to provide the repair of city streets and officials have said that it is quite doubtful if the funds will be sufficient to cover the program this year.

GIRLS' GROUPS TO STAGE DANCE

Simpson Organizations Sponsor 'April Shower Swing' Tomorrow.

The combined Girls' Emblem and Leaders' clubs of John Simpson junior high school will sponsor their annual spring dance, the "April Shower Swing," in the school gymnasium tomorrow night.

Dancing will begin at 8:30 p. m. and Olin Shutt and his orchestra will furnish music.

Heading the committee on arrangements is Miss Martha Thompson, girl's physical education instructor. Committee chairmen are Virginia Marion, program; Arleen Rindenour, financial; Evelyn Griffith, publicity; Phyllis Schaaf, entertainment; Marjory Urich, music; Edith Engelsrud, decorations, and Maxine Hawk, invitations.

CLOSES COURT TO JUDGE BOUT

Jurist Acts as Referee When 2 Attorneys Battle Over Remarks In Trial.

DALLAS, Tex. —(INS)— County Judge Tom Nash isn't one to let personal feelings interfere with the peaceable conduct of his court.

When two attorneys in a civil suit began to exchange angry personal remarks and finally "called each other out," Judge Nash recessed court, escorted them out into the hall and refereed the bout.

He stopped the fight after a couple of minutes when it was obvious neither of the lawyers could make a real contest out of it. "They were both out of training," he chuckled.

Trial was resumed next day after the lawyers had time to rest up and get their breath back.

U. S. Bomber Safe After Landing In Ocean

Returning from a training flight to Montgomery, Ala., this big U. S. Army bombing plane, struck heavy weather en route to its Mitchell Field, L. I., base and ran out of gas. The bomber is pictured after Lieut. Edmund Gorman brought it down on the ocean off Coney Island without injury to the eight occupants or damage to the plane.

TIRED, NERVOUS PEOPLE MAY HAVE SIMPLE ANEMIA
Simple Anemia (deficient quality of the blood) develops so gradually, in many people, that their blood is greatly impaired before they realize what is the matter.
Without enough hemoglobin to carry a plentiful supply of oxygen and other essential materials, your blood slowly starves your body into an apathetic state. The physical resistance of such a body is lowered, making us more susceptible to disease.
Fortunately, there is a simple way to fight simple Anemia—with Dr. Williams Pink Pills. They contain iron which the hemoglobin in your red blood cells must have to carry vital, life-giving oxygen and other essentuals from your lungs to every part of your body.
If you look pale, always feel tired, are easily upset and seem generally run-down, try Dr. Williams Pink Pills. Don't let simple Anemia get a strangle hold on you. But be sure you get the genuine Dr. Williams Pink Pills — 60¢ at your druggist. 49c

First Candidate For Miss America Title

Auburn-haired Miss Virginia Keppler (Miss Minnesota) is the first beauty contestant to submit her candidacy for the title of Miss America of 1940, to be named later at Atlantic City, N. J. Virginia is 20 years old and Minneapolis, Minn., hometown rooters think she ought to walk off with the beauty laurels.

HARVARD HAS AGED STUDENT

Woman, 70, Believes In Adage That "You're Never Too Old to Learn."

ABINGTON, Mass.—(INS)—Mrs. Gertrude Leighton is one woman who believes in the time-honored adage: "You're never too old to learn."

Mrs. Leighton is 70 years old. But she still goes to school. She traveled 25 miles from her home in Abington to Harvard University where she is taking a course in education at the Graduate School

Retired as a teacher in Somerville last year, Mrs. Leighton has found time to complete courses in many subjects. At one time she attended class with her son, Dr. Arthur W. Leighton, an instructor at Tufts college.

Besides her Harvard classes the knowledge-seeking Mrs. Leighton is a regular attendant at a series of lectures on law, economics and vocational training each week at the Abington Women's club of which she is a member.

Added to her educational accomplishments is 22 years of leadership in 4-H Club activities for which she has received highest honors.

Bring Sunshine, Care to Mansfield Invalids

Mansfield Visiting Nurses not only give nursing care to more than a thousand Mansfielders each year but they bring sunshine and cheer to many of the confirmed invalids. Picture number 1 shows Nurse Dorothy Bell with Margaret Van Ness—who has been an invalid for almost 20 years and who has been a patient of the Visiting Nurses since 1923. She is a victim of arthritis. No 2—Nurse Faye Chamberlain sets out on the day's work with an obstetrical kit knowing she is going to assist in ushering a baby into the world No 3—There are four nurses on the visiting staff seated left to right, Marjorie Palmer, supervisor of nurses, Dorothy Bell, standing left to right, Mary Hill McCarthy who has been with the organization for many years, and Miss Chamberlain. No 4—Nurse McCarthy is a welcome visitor at the bedside of Katherine Henke who has been an invalid for more than 30 years. No 5—Nurse Bell is giving tiny Nola Ann Sager her morning bath while Big Brother Clyde Sager looks on with interest.

City's Visiting Nurses Give Valuable Community Service

(Editor's Note This is the third of a series of articles and pictures dealing with the nine agencies that make up the Mansfield Community Fund A campaign to raise $57 500 for the support of these agencies for the ensuing year will open April 29.)

The Visiting Nurses association is one of the agencies of the Mansfield Community Fund that doesn't need "selling" to the public For many years it has been one of the most popular of all the nine agencies of the Fund

It is distinctly a Mansfield institution and is the outgrowth of the humanitarian work of a small group of Mansfield women which started early in the century, and for a number of years was financed by private subscription obtained from door-to-door solicitation

Today it provides nursing service for the general public and nursing care is given to any person who needs it and asks for it, regardless of ability to pay for the service. In fact, more than 80 per cent of the service rendered each year by the Visiting Nurses is charitable work.

Patients who are able to pay a dollar a visit are expected to do so, while others pay varying sums under a dollar when they can afford it.

The Visiting Nurses do not give treatments except under the directions of an attending physician. One visit can be made to a home without a physician's advice, and if she deems it necessary to have a physician's care, she advises it. But no treatments are given unless ordered by a physician.

There is no distinction as to race, color or creed in this service. Many invalids in Mansfield have been cared for by nurses for a period of years.

The staff consists of four nurses and an office secretary, and its policies are determined by an executive board of private citizens. In order to make the nursing service more efficient, each nurse is required to use her own car for calls so that there is no delay between calls. They are allowed $16 per month for the use of their cars and must pay for the up-keep, insurance, depreciation and gasoline out of this sum.

The Visiting Nurses operate separately from the City Health department and the health department nurses They work in cooperation with them, but are not affiliated in any way Nor is there any duplication of the work of the two groups

During 1939 the Visiting Nurses cared for 1,030 cases, making a total of 7,310 calls.

Expenses for the year were $8,710, and they received $6,641 from the Community Fund. This year they will receive $6,600 if the Fund goal is reached, and more if it is over-subscribed.

SERVES AT TUB

British Socialite Does Her Bit In Laundry.

LONDON—(NS)—Lady Webb Johnson, wife of Queen Mary's surgeon, is doing her little bit to help win the war by spending most of her time over a washtub—and she likes it.

She is in charge of the British Red Cross Salvage Department.

Aided by thirty volunteers she sorts our parcels of homemade bandages, shirts, stockings, dressing gowns and other hospital comforts that arrive daily at her headquarters.

Stockings that are too big are unraveled and reknitted. Bandages wrongly cut are unpacked and made over by the volunteers. All gifts are dyed khaihi and navy blue.

When these jobs are done Lady Webb Johnson rolls up her sleeves, dons a leather apron, and gives them a good scrubbing.

"I enjoy washing. There's a good result to show for it," she said.

WHAT IS IN A NAME

GRAND ISLAND, Neb (AP)—A visitor to a farm near Grand Island noticed a big gander who was the unquestioned leader of the flock. He mentioned it to the farmer. "That one," said the farmer, "we call Mahatma Gander."
